decide to start dating. The main goal is for teens to understand what a healthy relationship is before they start dating. Topics include signs that teenagers are dating (even though they may not have told their parents about it), the red and green flags to look for, and how to develop healthy boundaries for a relationship.

Dating Matters: Healthy Relations for Teens

This workshop will help the youth analyze what a healthy relationship is, because a lot of them don't think about dating in that way, explained Notsinneh-Bowekaty. "What is a healthy relationship? It could be making healthy choices for themselves. Sometimes people will get into a relationship just to be in one and February is Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month, and Health and Human Services Prevention and Intervention Services of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community is holding a number of workshops to help educate teens and their parents on teen dating violence issues. Community Health Educator Vurlene Notsinneh-Bowekaty will be providing three Zoom workshops, Healthy Teen Dating: What Every Parent Should Know; Dating Matters: Healthy Relations for Teens; and Teens and Digital Abuse, Boundaries and Safety.

The Community Once Again Recognized in Top 10 Healthiest Employers

The Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community is officially back on track as one of the Top 10 Healthiest Employers in the Valley in 2020 and 2021, according to the Phoenix Business Journal.

WellPath, the Community's wellness program, ranked No. 9 in the Phoenix market's list of large employers for 2021. The Community was also previously recognized as one of the Healthiest Employers from 2011 to 2017.

The Phoenix Business Journal partners with the awards program Healthiest Employers and posts a list of awarded wellness programs in their publication each year.

specific answers for the measures covered on the Healthiest Employers benchmark assessment tools.

"WellPath enjoys excellent support from leadership, participation incentives and dedicated Human Resources staff," said SRPMIC Wellness Program supervisor Andrew Weiler.

"WellPath is a holistic program, in that we focus on domains of wellness outside the most common people think of: exercise and diet, which are actually one domain. [We also] offer programming for financial wellness, occupational or professional wellness, and the intellectual, spiritual, emotional, social and not realize what the other person may bring into it.

“I think it is common for girls to be with someone just to be with someone, regardless of their partner being abusive in any way toward them,” said Notsinneh-Bowekaty. “They are there just because they think they need a boyfriend.”

Teens learn to respect each other’s boundaries in the relationship; for example, ensuring the relationship is fun for both of them and that there is not one person making all the decisions about what they’re going to do; trusting the boyfriend or girlfriend to hang out with their friends without constant texting or calling to check on them; and being able to have a time out from one another.

Teens and Digital Abuse, Boundaries and Safety

This workshop will discuss what could happen if teens are sharing inappropriate photos with their partners and how this could be used for revenge in digital form. This is applicable when the teens have a breakup, explained Notsinneh-Bowekaty.

“You don’t go and write it on a bathroom wall, like it was back in my day,” said Notsinneh-Bowekaty. “Now they post things to social media to get at each other and tear each other down. And usually when people post something negative, there are always negative com-

This also includes being aware of sending their boyfriend or girlfriend inappropriate photos.

“Are you going to be okay sending a photo of yourself to people, knowing it can go viral and everyone could see it?” said Notsinneh-Bowekaty. “Also, how could it affect you later on in life when applying for college or a job? We talk about how you can protect yourself from that.”

Wear Orange Day

People can wear orange to support youth who may be victims of teen dating violence. The HHS Prevention and Intervention Services gave out incentives to those who participated in the Wear Orange Day, which was held on February 11.

There will be more about these workshops in the March 3 issue of O’odham Action News. If you would like to learn more about teen dating violence, contact Vurlene Notsinneh-Bowekaty at vurlene.notsinneh-bowekaty@srpmic-nsn.gov.

easy for her; she didn’t like it because it wasn’t pushing or challenging her,” said Michaela Hasson. “We stumbled upon a gymnastics class and started out recreationally, just to see if she was interested, and a month later she was invited to join a team.”

Jada is a member of Desert Diamond Gymnastics in Mesa. The team recently participated in the Arizona Grand Invitational, a four-day competition from January 20 through January 23. The competition featured a number of teams from Arizona, California, New Mexico, Colorado and Oregon. Jada competed in vault, beam, floor and bars, placing seventh in bar, seventh in vault and 13th overall in the Level 2 division. She will be participating in three more competitions before her season is over.

“I love it,” said Jada. “I like the vault.”

Her interest in gymnastics has been growing since the Summer Olympics. Her parents hope she continues to enjoy participating in the sport.

“Right now, she is really driven about it. I am hoping to see her in the Olympics one day; that’s all she talks about right now,” said Michaela Hasson.

Hasson also participated in the Classic Rock Gymnastics Invitational on February 4, where she also participated in vault, beam, floor and bars. In her category she placed 4th over all, 5th place in vault, 3rd in bars and 4th in the floor competition.

COVID-19 in the Community: An Update

BY CHRIS PICCIUOLO
O’odham Action News
chris.picciuolo@srpmic-nsn.gov

After a significant rise in active cases of COVID-19 in the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community as of January 21, with 537 total cases and eight people hospitalized, the number of active cases dramatically decreased just over a week later to a total of 166, with three people hospitalized, on February 2. As of February 11, active cases have dropped to 93.

As of February 3, the total number of vaccine doses administered to the Community was 18,655. A total of 10,027 individuals have received at least one dose of vaccine, which includes Community members and their families and Community government and Enterprise employees. Of those individuals, 9,367 are fully vaccinated (two or three doses), 1,989 have received a booster, and 659 are only partially vaccinated.

As for Community members, 4,335 have been fully vaccinated, which is 49% of those who are eligible. A total of 937 Community members have received a booster dose, which is 10% of those who are eligible.

The Community continues to offer COVID-19 vaccinations and boosters on Tuesdays at the Salt River Clinic and on Thursdays and Fridays at the Salt River Community Building.

The vaccines and boosters are available to 5- to 11-year-old children, 12- to 17-year-old youth and adults 18 and older who are SRPMIC enrolled members and children, as well as enrolled members and children living on the Community, and tribal government and Enterprise employees and their families.

For adults 18 and older, walk-ins are welcome on Thursdays until 6 p.m. Patients with an appointment will take priority, and walk-ins will have a longer wait time.

To schedule an appointment for vaccination, call the SRPMIC COVID Hotline at (480) 362-2603.

The Arizona Department of Health Services said that as of February 3, the total number of COVID-19 vaccine doses administered in the state was 10,643,013. The total number of people who have received at least one dose was 4,922,140, and the number of people who are fully vaccinated against COVID-19 was 4,182,074, with 68.5% of the 72.9% people eligible for the vaccination having received two or three doses.

In the race/ethnicity category of people who have received at least one dose of the COVID-19 vaccine in Arizona, the total number of American Indian/Alaska Native, non-Hispanic recipients was 217,418.

The state continues to experience high community transmission of COVID-19, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). As of February 3, in one week, Arizona saw 96,937 new cases of COVID-19, 722 deaths, and a seven-day moving average of 496.14 new hospital admissions. Residents of Maricopa County accounted for 57,134 of the new cases.

Only 41.8% of fully vaccinated Americans have received a booster dose, according to the CDC; the total number of Americans with a booster dose was 88,614,084 as of February 3.

Two new CDC reports show that people who are up to date with their COVID-19 vaccines have the highest level of protection against both the delta and omicron variants of COVID-19. One report found that, compared with vaccinated adults, unvaccinated adults had five times the risk of infection and more than 50 times the risk of COVID-19-associated death.

The other report found that a third dose of the Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna vaccine was highly effective at preventing emergency room and urgent care visits and hospitalizations related to the virus.

Vaccination Numbers in the Community as of 2/2

Meet Joe Urrea

BY KIRSTEN VANDEVENTER, MPA
Emergency Management Coordinator (PHEP)

The Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community's Emergency Management team is excited to introduce new Emergency Management Coordinator Joseph "Joe" Urrea. He comes to Salt River with a diverse 19-year background in emergency management and will complement the current team by specializing in training and exercise.

Over the course of the last seven years, Urrea served as the tribal liaison for the Arizona Department of Emergency and Military Affairs (DEMA), collaborating with and supporting all 22 tribal nations of Arizona, and worked very closely with Salt River Emergency Management staff including Cliff Puckett, Terry Nelson and Kirsten VanDeventer.

Urrea was instrumental in assisting the Community with resources during the COVID-19 response over the last two years. He worked closely with the Arizona National Guard, which is part of DEMA, as well as many other groups and organizations that wanted to assist and support the tribes throughout the pandemic.

At DEMA, Urrea assisted state, federal and nonprofit agencies in coordinating with the 22 tribes in preparation for, response to and recovery from disasters. He has deployment experience with flooding, wildfires and large-scale special events. Prior to serving as the tribal liaison, Urrea served as the state hazard analysis officer, identifying and analyzing potential natural, technological and man-made hazards.

As a Master Exercise Practitioner (MEP), Urrea hopes to bring innovation to the Community as we transition back into the disaster-preparedness cycle and out of the COVID-19 response. He is certified to instruct Incident Command System (ICS) courses, the Homeland Security Exercise and Evaluation Program (HSEEP) and National Emergency Management Basic Academy (NEMBA) courses, and he says that he learns from the students as much as he teaches them. He has a master of public administration degree from Arizona State University and has two bachelor's degrees, in political science and philosophy, from the University of California, Riverside.

In his free time, Urrea enjoys spending time with his three children and three dogs. He enjoys camping all across Arizona and loves to travel. Please help the Emergency Management team welcome Joe Urrea. You can reach out to him via email at Joseph.Urrea@srpmic-nsn.gov.

Rancho Solano Prep Breaks Ground On New Campus

BY CHRIS PICCIUOLO
O'odham Action News
chris.picciuolo@srpmic-nsn.gov

On January 26, Rancho Solano Preparatory School held a groundbreaking ceremony for a new Lower School (pre-K to fifth grade) campus on Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community land at 8075 N. Pima Road.

The new campus will be built across the street from the Middle and Upper School campus (sixth to 12th grade) and will be funded by the alternative asset manager and fund sponsor company Caliber.

Rancho Solano will lease the space from Caliber for 20 years, with an option to renew for 10 years. The campus is designed by architectural firm Orcutt/Winslow.

The projected total cost of the construction, according to Caliber, is $11.5 million, and the projected opening of the new campus will be August 2023.

Dr. Martha Braly, principal at the Lower School campus, said that the current campus at 5656 E. Greenway is a beautiful location, but the school is outgrowing the space.

"We wouldn't be able to [open a new campus] without the SRPMIC giving us the opportunity to build on the land here. So we're very excited," said Braly.

Pre-K Coordinator Dr. Theresa Nabavi said that the location of the new campus gives them a closer connection to the Upper Campus.

"It gives us a great opportunity for our students to connect through the years and look forward to new traditions as a learning community," said Nabavi.

The campus will feature customized classrooms for the many subjects in the Lower School curriculum and will include a new gymnasium and an outdoor sports field and court.

Savvy Senior

How to Convince an Elderly Parent to Stop Driving

Dear Savvy Senior,

What is the best way to deal with older drivers who probably shouldn't be driving anymore? My dad, who's 86, is bound and determined to keep driving as long as he's alive.

Backseat Daughter

Dear Backseat,

For many families, talking to an elderly parent about giving up the car keys can be a very difficult and sensitive topic. While there's no one way to handle this issue, here are a few suggestions that can help you evaluate your dad's driving and ease him out from behind the wheel when the time is right.

Take a Ride

To get a clear picture of your dad's driving abilities, a good first step, if you haven't already done so, is to take a ride with him and watch for problem areas. For example: Does he have difficulty seeing, backing up or changing lanes? Does he react slowly, get confused easily or make poor driving decisions? Does he drive at inappropriate speeds, tailgate or drift between lanes? Also, has your dad had any fender benders or tickets lately, or have you noticed any dents or scrapes on his vehicle? These, too, are red flags.

If you need some help and your dad is willing, consider hiring a driver rehabilitation specialist who's trained to evaluate elderly drivers and provide safety suggestions. This type of assessment typically costs between $200 and $400. To locate a professional in your area, visit AOTA.org/older-driver or ADED.net.

Transitioning and Talking

After your assessment, if you think it's still safe for your dad to drive, see if he would be willing to take an older driver refresher course.

These courses will show him how aging affects driving skills and offers tips and adjustments to help keep him safe. Taking a class may also earn your dad a discount on his auto insurance. To locate a class, contact your local AAA (AAA.com) or AARP (AARP-driversafety.org, 888-227-7669). Most courses cost around $20 to $30 and can be taken online.

If, however, your assessment shows that your dad really does need to stop driving, you need to have a talk with him, but don't get carried away. If you begin with a dramatic outburst like "Dad, you're going to kill someone!" you're likely to trigger resistance. Start by simply expressing your concern for his safety.

For more tips on how to talk to your dad about this and evaluate his driving skills, the Hartford Financial Services Group and MIT AgeLab offers a variety of resources to assist you. Visit TheHartford.com/lifetime and click on "Publications" on the menu bar, then on the "We Need to Talk" guidebook.

Refuses to Quit

If your dad refuses to quit, you have several options. One possible solution is to suggest a visit to his doctor who can give him a medical evaluation, and if warranted, "prescribe" that he stops driving. Older people will often listen to their doctor before they will listen to their own family.

If he still refuses, contact your local Department of Motor Vehicles to see if they can help. Or call in an attorney to discuss with your dad the potential financial and legal consequences of a crash or injury. If all else fails, you may just have to take away his keys.

Alternative Transportation

Once your dad stops driving, he's going to need other ways to get around, so help him create a list of names and phone numbers of family, friends and local transportation services that he can call on.

To find out what transportation services are available in your dad's area contact Rides in Sight (RidesInSight.org, 855-607-4337), and the Eldercare Locator (800-677-1116), which will direct you to his area agency on aging for assistance.

Send your senior questions to: Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit SavvySenior.org. Jim Miller is a contributor to the NBC Today show and author of "The Savvy Senior" book.

WESTWOOD HIGH SENIOR MILES KING COMPLETES WRESTLING SEASON

BY TASHA SILVERHORN
O'dham Action News
tasha.silverhorn2@srpmic-nsn.gov

Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community member Miles King finished up his wrestling season in early February. On January 20, King and other Westwood High School seniors on the wrestling team were honored during the girls' wrestling match. The seniors were recognized with gift bags and other items.

King, who has played basketball, baseball and football, also wrestled previously at Salt River High School. As he approached his senior year, he was inspired by his girlfriend, who is a wrestler at Poston Butte High School in San Tan Valley, to try out for the Westwood wrestling team.

"It was a good experience. It was hard physically and mentally," said King. "I just had to get myself through it; but once I got through it, it was the best decision I ever made."

King recommends that any student who wants to get stronger or is feeling down about themselves should join a sports team. He explains that while any sport would do, wrestling is one of the toughest sports that can build you mentally and physically.

King would like to thank his girlfriend, coaches and his parents, Jessica Hornbeck and Garfield King, for all their support, especially his father.

Native Votes Make a Difference in Arizona Elections

BY CHRIS PICCIUOLO
O'odham Action News
chris.picciuolo@srpmic-nsn.gov

It's a new year, and a new election cycle has begun.

The 2022 Arizona and nationwide general election will be held on November 8, with Arizona's primary election falling on August 2.

Native votes have made a difference in recent elections, especially in 2018, when Kyrsten Sinema won the Arizona U.S. Senate race by a margin of only 55,900 votes out of 2.38 million total votes cast. That's a difference of 2.4%.

In the 2018 Arizona gubernatorial race, incumbent Governor Doug Ducey won a third term by a margin of 336,522 votes, which is a difference of 14.8%.

In 2020, Joe Biden was elected President of the United States and won the Arizona popular vote by a margin of 10,457 votes, which is a difference of 0.03%. The Native American presidential vote in 2020 accounted for 0.04% of the 79.9% overall turnout for Arizona. So if you think your vote doesn't count, think again.

"Right now, Community members are encouraged to make sure they are registered to vote," said Angela Willeford, intergovernmental relations PR manager for the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community. "In addition, we encourage [people to] remind individuals in their family who turn 18 to register to vote by the November election."

To register to vote, visit the Arizona voter registration website at <https://servicearizona.com/VoterRegistration>.

Understanding the American Indian Probate Reform Act

BY CHRIS PICCIUOLO
O'odham Action News
chris.picciuolo@srpmic-nsn.gov

In the February 3 issue of O'odham Action News, we broke down the probate process for Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community members who are either dealing with the loss of a loved one or planning ahead to determine the validity of or process of heirs, wills, beneficiaries and more.

In this issue, we provide an in-depth look at the American Indian Probate Reform Act (AIPRA).

What Is AIPRA?

According to California Indian Legal Services, "AIPRA is a federal law that sets forth the rules for probating (distributing) Native Americans who have a trust asset such as an allotment (or allotment interest) and/or Individual Indian Money (IIM) accounts."

On June 20, 2006, AIPRA went into effect because of the unique circumstances surrounding land ownership for Native Americans. AIPRA only applies to estates of persons who passed away after June 20, 2006.

If you pass away without a will, any trust assets will be probated under AIPRA.

AIPRA is an attempt to overhaul the probate process for Indian trust property, with a goal of reversing the consequences of a process called "fractionation."

What Is Fractionation?

Fractionation occurs when individual trust allotments have so many small-interest owners that no single owner can effectively use the land. Simply put, it is the dilution of land ownership over time.

The number of undivided interests

When and how is AIPRA applied?

If you pass away without a will, any trust assets will be probated under AIPRA.

The amount of undivided interests owned in an allotment determines who qualifies as an eligible heir for the distribution.

Less than 5%
5% or more owned in an allotment determines who qualifies as an eligible heir for the distribution. The undivided interests that AIPRA specifically deals with are less than 5% or 5% or more, which is known as the "5 percent rule" or "single heir rule."

"The single heir rule-order of descent is the oldest living child, and if there is no child, then the oldest living grandchild," said Rachel Mendoza, Membership and Real Estate Property Management Project Manager in the SRPMIC Community Development Department.

"If there is no grandchild, then it goes to the oldest living. If there are no heirs, it will go to the Indian tribe with jurisdiction over the interest, meaning the SRPMIC. It will only go to one person, so there is no splitting of equal shares."

According to the Indian Land Tenure Foundation, there are two separate agencies at the Department of the Interior involved in the probate of Indian land: the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) and the Office of Hearings and Appeals (OHA). The BIA's Division of Probate gathers information about the decedent (the person who died) and his or her family and property and prepares it for adjudication.

After OHA issues a probate order, the Division of Probate works with other trust offices, such as the Bureau of Trust Funds Administration and the Land Titles and Records Office, to distribute the assets.

"SRPMIC is a compacted, or a self-governed, tribe, meaning we (Probate Services) are wearing the BIA hat and carrying out those BIA duties of gathering the information and preparing the case," said Mendoza.

Stay tuned for the next issue of O'odham Action News as we cover the most important aspects of the personal property probate process and the trust asset probate process that the Community needs to know about.

Self-Test Results

1 Follow instructions very carefully.

2 Use the QR code below for more information about self-testing and how-to videos.

3 If your results are positive
Isolate yourself from others. As much as possible, stay in a specific room and away from other people and pets in your home.

Tell your close contacts that they may have been exposed to COVID-19.

www.cdc.gov/covidtesting

Call your health care provider with any questions, including if you have worsening COVID-19 symptoms.

If Your Test Result Is Positive

You should isolate according to CDC recommendations and wear a well-fitting mask if you must be around other people.

If you test positive for COVID-19 and have one or more health conditions that increase your risk of becoming very sick, treatment may be available that could lower your chance of becoming very sick. Ask your healthcare provider if you may be eligible for treatments. Keep in mind treatments should begin in the first few days after your symptoms appear to be effective.

If your illness becomes severe, seek medical attention. If you have an emergency warning sign (including trouble breathing), seek emergency medical care immediately. To avoid spreading the virus to others, follow CDC recommendations.

Tell your close contacts that they may have been exposed to the virus that causes COVID-19. A person with COVID-19 can begin spreading the virus starting 48 hours (or 2 days) before they have any symptoms or test positive. By informing your close contacts that they may have been exposed, you are helping to protect everyone.

If you think your positive test result may be incorrect, contact a healthcare provider to determine whether additional testing is necessary.

If Your Test Result Is Negative

A negative test result means that the virus that causes COVID-19 was not detected in your specimen, and you may have a lower risk of transmitting the disease to others. If you took the test while you had symptoms and followed all instructions carefully, a negative result means your current illness may not be COVID-19, though it does not rule out COVID-19 infection.

It is also possible for a test to give a negative result in some people who have COVID-19. This is called a false negative. You could also test negative if the specimen was collected too early in your infection. In this case, you could test positive later during your illness. You should consider serial testing (see below).

Even if you receive a negative result, you should continue to practice preventative measures, such as being up to date on your COVID-19 vaccination, wearing a mask indoors, and physical distancing to reduce the risk of spreading COVID-19.

If Your Result Shows Invalid or Error

Sometimes invalid results or an error can occur on the self-test device. Invalid results or an error can occur for many reasons. Your specimen may not have been collected correctly, or the test may have malfunctioned.

Invalid test results are rare but can occur. If the self-test shows an invalid result or a test error, the test did not work properly. If this happens, a new test is needed to get an accurate result. Refer to the manufacturer's instructions in the package insert and contact the manufacturer for assistance, consider taking another self-test, or contact a healthcare provider for additional help.

Diabetes Prevention Services Hosts Calcium and Bone Health Seminar

BY TASHA SILVERHORN
O'odham Action News
tasha.silverhorn2@srpmic-nsn.gov

Diabetes Prevention Services of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community started off February with a two-day seminar on calcium and bone health held on February 1 and 2. The seminar was presented virtually through Zoom.

On the first day of the seminar, Community Health Educator Tara John discussed the benefits of calcium, how to identify foods with calcium and how to make a healthy snack. On the second day, Physical Fitness Specialist Nevelle Howard discussed the benefits of physical activity for bone health and provided a simple workout warm-up to help strengthen bones.

The participants were all provided with a learning kit, which they picked up prior to the Zoom presentations. This kit included a recipe card, My Native Plate, handouts noting the benefits of calcium, and the ingredients and recipe for making blue corn mush (see sidebar).

John discussed some great sources of calcium, asking the participants to name some. But before they shared their answers, John talked about My Native Plate.

My Native Plate is a guide to show how much vegetables, protein, grains/starches and fruit should be served at each meal. Half of the plate should be filled with non-starchy vegetables. The other half should be divided into equal parts of grains/starches and protein. Fruit can be added on the side.

"You will notice that dairy is not on the My Native Plate. This is because dairy was nonexistent in the Native American diet before the 1600s. But there were other ways we got our calcium," said John.

Physical Fitness Specialist Nevelle Howard provided some simple warm up techniques to help improve bone health.

Those sources of calcium included beans, squash, oranges, blackberries, juniper ash and, specific to the Community, cholla buds.

"Calcium helps us form strong bones, it's good for the blood and it helps the muscles contract. It also helps prevent osteoporosis," John said.

"We lose calcium every single day, so we want to make sure we are eating good sources of calcium. That way we can restore and replenish it inside our bodies," said John. "The other thing I did want to share is that it's not only important that we're getting good sources of calcium, but we also [need] good sources of vitamin D as well, because the vitamin D can help our bodies better absorb calcium."

Good sources of vitamin D are sunlight, eggs, fish, soy milk, orange juice, beef liver and fortified cereals.

John demonstrated how to make blue corn mush, a dish used by multiple tribal communities that is a good source of calcium (see sidebar for recipe). The Hopi people use it to make piki bread, and the Navajo use it to make a cake for their coming-of-age ceremony. You can also make pancakes, cookies, cupcakes and frybread with it as well.

Benefits of Physical Activity on Bone

Health

Howard reviewed bone health and fitness and demonstrated several exercise activities with the participants.

Exercising regularly helps build bone density, but you also need good nutrition with calcium and vitamin D. Exercising also helps with balance and coordination, which is important as people age to help prevent falls that may result in broken bones. Inactivity causes bone loss, so it is important to exercise regularly.

Howard reviewed two types of exercise training that are effective for building strong bones. The first is weight-bearing exercise, which is anything you do on your feet that works your bones and muscles against gravity. Weight-bearing exercises include brisk walking, hiking, jogging/running, dancing, jump rope, tennis, basketball, volleyball, stair climbing and more. The second is traditional strength training, which is resistance added to movement to make muscles work harder so both bones and muscles become stronger. These exercises include push-ups, lunges and lifting weights.

Non-weight-bearing exercises, such as swimming, bicycling and chair exercises, do not increase bone density but are excellent for strengthening the muscles, heart and lungs.

Before wrapping up his presentation, Howard demonstrated a number of simple exercises to help get the blood pumping with a 15- to 20-minute warm-up.

If you would like to participate in any future seminars or events, watch for new events posted on the SRPMIC Health and Human Services Facebook page at www.facebook.com/SaltRiverD-HHS.

Blue Corn Mush Recipe

- 1 cup blue corn flour
- ½ teaspoon juniper ash
- 1 cup cold water

Mix the flour and ash together with a whisk. The ash is an excellent source of calcium.

Place water in a pot and add the flour mixture while the water is cold to avoid large lumps. Whisk until smooth.

Place pot on medium-high heat and constantly stir the mixture so the bottom of the pot doesn't burn. Cook until thickened.

If you would like you can add nuts, honey or fruit to the mush before serving; stir it into traditional dishes; or use it to prepare baked goods like bread or muffins.

FEBRUARY IS American Heart Month

Why is this month so important?

This month is the chance for us to learn more about our cardiovascular health.

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in the United States for both men and women.

But there's a lot we can do to prevent and protect our hearts by incorporating small acts of self-care and understanding our risks.

Small acts of self-care:

- * Get a daily dose of physical activity, such as a brisk, 30-minute walk.
- * Cook meals that are low in sodium and unhealthy fats.
- * Take your medications as prescribed and keep your medical appointments.
- * Sleep 7-8 hours a night.
- * Manage stress through meditation, yoga, a warm bath, or quiet time with a good book or funny movie.
- * Try to reach or stay at a healthy weight by moving more and having snacks like fruits and veggies ready to grab when hunger hits

Our risk of heart disease is higher if we?

- * Have high blood pressure
- * Have high blood cholesterol
- * Are overweight or obese
- * Have prediabetes or diabetes
- * Smoke
- * Do not get regular physical activity
- * Have a family history of early heart disease (your father or brother was diagnosed before age 55, or your mother or sister was diagnosed before age 65)

- * Have a history of preeclampsia (a sudden rise in blood pressure and too much protein in the urine during pregnancy)
- * Have unhealthy eating behaviors
- * Are older (age 55 or older for women or age 45 or older for men)

Second Annual George L. Lerma Holiday Drive Honoring Veterans

SUBMITTED BY ASA PADILLA

The family of the late George L. Lerma started a yearly holiday-season tradition in 2020 to honor Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community veterans by providing them with a hot meal and a gift bag. This past holiday season, the family continued the tradition with the help of American Legion Post #114, the Salt River Police Department, Texas Roadhouse restaurant and the Red Mountain Riders.

“We would like to thank all those that made this event possible this year,” said Asa Padilla, Lerma’s nephew, who helps coordinate the event.

The SRPMIC American Legion Post #114 Bushmasters donated the gift baskets and helped make deliveries. Sgt. Velez of the SRPD helped escort the group through the Community as they made their deliveries.

“It was so nice to see travelers pull over to the side of the road and take photos,” said Padilla. “The Red Mountain Riders’ Leonard Villanueva, Dennis Toya and James Osife escorted [the group] in honor of George Lerma.”

Managing Partner Fred Wenzel of Texas Roadhouse was a huge help working with Padilla by donating meals this year and keeping the food hot and neatly packaged.

“Thank you for supporting our veterans in our Community,” said Padilla. “My family and I work together to make this event happen. Starting in September and through October [we buy] small gifts to place in each gift bag, along with a blanket and popcorn tin. We enjoy making the memories and carrying my uncle’s legacy to help and give back to our Community. Our family looks forward to this event, and seeing the look on our veterans’ faces makes it all worthwhile.”

Know the Difference

Cardiovascular Disease, Heart Disease, Coronary Heart Disease

Cardiovascular disease, heart disease, coronary heart disease – what’s the difference?

Because these terms sound so similar, people use them interchangeably. This fact sheet will help you understand how these conditions differ.

Cardiovascular Disease

The big umbrella

Cardiovascular disease is the term for all types of diseases that affect the heart or blood vessels, including coronary heart disease (clogged arteries), which can cause heart attacks, stroke, heart failure, and peripheral artery disease.

Heart Disease

A type of cardiovascular disease

“Heart disease” is a catch-all phrase for a variety of conditions that affect the heart’s structure and function.

Keep in mind – all heart diseases are cardiovascular diseases, but not all cardiovascular diseases are heart disease.

The most common type of heart disease is coronary heart disease. In fact, when people talk about “heart disease” they often mean coronary heart disease.

Nearly 650,000 Americans die from heart diseases each year.

About 11% of American adults (that’s more than 1 of every 9) have been diagnosed with heart disease.

Coronary Heart Disease

A type of heart disease

Coronary heart disease is often referred to simply as “heart disease,” although it’s not the only type of heart disease. Another term for it is coronary artery disease.

About 366,000 Americans die from coronary heart disease each year.

Coronary heart disease occurs when plaque (a combination of fat, cholesterol, calcium, and other substances found in the blood) builds up in your arteries. You may have heard this called clogged arteries or atherosclerosis.

The plaque reduces the amount of oxygen-rich blood getting to your heart, which can cause chest pain (also called angina). Plaque can also lead to blood clots, which block blood flow and are the most common cause of a heart attack.

What you can do to protect yourself from cardiovascular diseases?

There’s a lot you can do to protect your heart.

- Ask your doctor about your blood pressure, cholesterol, and A1C.
- Reduce the sodium, and increase the fruits, vegetables, and whole grains in your diet.
- Be physically active.
- Maintain a healthy weight.
- Don’t smoke.
- Manage stress.
- Keep your diabetes under control.

How Many Times Can I Reuse My N95 Mask?

BY EMMA H. TOBIN
Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — How many times can I reuse my N95 mask?

It depends, but you should be able to use N95s and KN95s a few times.

The U.S. Centers of Disease Control and Prevention says health care workers can wear an N95 mask up to five times. But experts say how often the average person can safely wear one will vary depending on how it's used.

Using the same mask to run to the grocery store, for example, is very different than wearing it all day at work.

The amount of time a mask is worn is more important than how frequently it's worn, says Richard Flagan, who studies masks and aerosols at the California Institute of Technology.

In general, he recommends limiting the use of an N95 mask to about two or three days.

With every breath you take in an N95, particles accumulate on the mask, Flagan says. That could make it more difficult to breathe if the mask has trapped a lot of particles.

"They are degrading the performance of the mask," Flagan says.

The elastic band on the mask could also get worn out and not fit around your face as snugly. It might also get dirty or wet, especially if you're using it while exercising.

If you notice any of these changes to your mask, it's time to stop using it — even if you've only used it a few hours. And since N95 masks can't be washed, they should be thrown away once you can no longer use them.

When did you start working there?

I started with National Hospitality Services on July 16th, 2018, four years ago and opened the hotel late October 2020!

Do you have regular guests and if so, what is it like, do you have a relationship with them?

I feel so blessed to have built such amazing relationships with our guests. They become a part of the family. We have guests that stay with us on a weekly basis, some have been here for months. Our guests come to us from our local medical facilities, relocation companies, real estate companies and more. Each and every one of them is special to all of us. Without them, we wouldn't be here.

What is your favorite thing about Staybridge Suites at Talking Stick?

The feeling you get when you walk through the front door. It becomes a home away from home

What is your favorite thing about working in your role at Staybridge?

The people! They truly are my passion. I get to make our guests day, every single day! I can't imagine a better job.

Move More Making Physical Activity Routine

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in the United States. The good news is that you can lower your risk of getting it or having a stroke by simply moving more. Many types of activity can help your heart—going on a hike or taking the stairs, biking to the store or around the block, wheeling yourself in your wheelchair. Figure out what works best for you.

How much is enough?

As little as 60 minutes a week of moderate-intensity aerobic activity such as walking briskly helps your heart. For major health benefits, aim for at least 150 minutes (2½ hours) a week. Or go for 75 minutes a week of more vigorous activity such as playing basketball, running, or jumping rope, which gives the same benefits. The bottom line: More activity means a bigger boost to your health.

It's up to you how you reach your own personal targets. For example, 30 minutes of physical activity, five times a week, is one option if you're aiming for 150 minutes a week.

Can't carve out a lot of time in your day? Don't chuck your goal, chunk it! Try 10 minutes a few times a day, for example.

Only have 10 minutes? Consider:

- ✓ Walking briskly for 5 minutes, turning around and walking back
- ✓ Dancing (standing or seated) to three songs
- ✓ Getting off your bus early and walking the last stretch

You'll know you're moving enough to help your heart if

- ✓ Your heart is beating faster
- ✓ You're breathing harder
- ✓ You break a sweat

Or, try the talk test:

- ✓ During physical activities, like brisk walking, you should be able to talk, but not sing.
- ✓ During activities such as jogging, you can't say more than a few words without pausing for a breath.

Why move more?

Being active can:

- Protect your heart (even if you have heart disease)
- Improve blood flow
- Lower blood pressure and cholesterol levels
- Give you more stamina and ability to cope with stress

If you're inactive, you're nearly twice as likely to develop heart disease than if you're active. Learn more about the benefits of physical activity on the NHLBI website.

Get strong

In addition to aerobic activity, take time to strengthen your muscles. Try to work your leg, hip, back, chest, abdomen, shoulder, and arm muscles. Aim to do muscle strengthening twice a week in addition to your aerobic activities.

NOTICE OF SRPMIC COUNCIL DECISION
PERMANENT EXCLUSION OF RAY ANTHONY LYNCH
(DOB XX/XX/1972)

January 21, 2022

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community ("SRPMIC") Council pursuant to Article VII, §1(g) of the SRPMIC Constitution and Sections 7-72 through 7-75 of the SRPMIC Code of Ordinances decided on January 19, 2022 at a regularly scheduled Council Meeting to permanently exclude Ray Anthony Lynch from the boundaries of the SRPMIC (after his criminal sentence has been fully served). See SR-3935-2022. The decision to permanently exclude Ray Anthony Lynch was based on the recommendation from the SRPMIC Exclusion Committee after a hearing had been held and it was determined that Ray Anthony Lynch is a nonmember whose presence is detrimental to the peace, health, or morals of the SPRMIC due to his serious and violent criminal convictions.

Ray Anthony Lynch's picture can be found at <https://www.srpmic-nsn.gov/government/exclusion>. Ray Anthony Lynch's permanent exclusion is effective when he is released (after serving his full sentence) from the Salt River Department of Corrections. Thereafter, Ray Anthony Lynch is not allowed to be within the territorial boundary of the Community and therefore, he is not allowed to drive through, visit others, reside or come within the Community boundaries at any time for any reason.

Introduction

In 2003, the marketing activities of Phoenix Cement Company and Salt River Sand and Rock were integrated under the Salt River Materials Group (SRMG) commercial trade name to better capitalize on the synergies of related products for the concrete products industry. Headquartered at the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community's (SRPMIC) Chaparral Business Park near Scottsdale, AZ, SRMG is currently a leading supplier of portland and masonry cements, fly ash and other pozzolans, both normal and light weight aggregates, and natural gypsum products throughout Arizona and the Southwestern United States.

With its strategically located manufacturing facilities, a large fleet of railcars, and an extensive network of rail-served bulk terminals, SRMG continues to deliver quality products and services to the demanding and rapidly-growing construction market. From ready mix concrete to stucco, concrete masonry to paving and soil stabilization, customers of all types throughout the Southwest have experienced the value of SRMG's reliable network, technical expertise, market development and customer service.

Salt River Materials Group is also a leader promoting sustainable products and practices in its industries. With over two decades of experience producing and marketing blended cements and coal combustion products to the concrete industry, SRMG has helped pioneer the use of recycled materials, using its uniquely integrated experience and expertise in the development of new applications.
