BY TASHA SILVERHORN

tasha.silverhorn2@srpmic-nsn.gov

Reigning Miss Salt River 2018-19 Kaily Toney made it her mission to spread knowledge about mental health awareness as part of her platform during her time as Miss Salt River. Toney planned the L.O.V.E. (Lifting Others Value Existence) mental health awareness walk on Saturday, May 18 at the Two Waters Courtyard.

Registration started at 7:30 a.m., and participants were given a T-shirt with a logo of two hands embracing.

"It represents the support that all O'odham and Piipaash people should have," said Toney. "The ring on the hand represents suicide awareness and the green band represents Mental Health Awareness Month, which is observed in May. We hope it encourages all people."

The event continued with a warm-up before participants started the 1-mile walk around the tribal government complex. Along the route, members of the Young River People's Council handed out water.

At the finish line, walkers were offered breakfast featuring burritos made by members of the Pima Christian Fellowship, plus fruit, vegetables and water. As everyone ate breakfast, representatives from different programs spoke about tackling mental health issues. Representatives were present from the Helping O'odham Piipaash Excel (H.O.P.E.) Project, the Crisis Prevention Team, the Family Advocacy Center and the Salt River Crisis Team. The speakers talked about their programs and the services they provide for Community members.

"I wanted to bring awareness to all the resources that we have in the Community," said Toney. "I hope more of our people can take advantage of these opportunities to heal and recover from the trauma that they face in their lives."

Ms. Scottsdale Community College 2018-19 Kaitlin Donahue was one of the guest speakers. She cited the statistics of mental health issues among Native Americans, ex-

The Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community was recently honored at the 26th annual Scottsdale History Hall of Fame Dinner. The dinner was held on May 9 at the Scottsdale Resort at McCormick Ranch, and the SRPMIC was one of six new inductees. The Past Presidents Council of the Scottsdale Area Chamber of Commerce honors people and organizations that have contributed to the legacy of making the City of Scottsdale one of the best cities in the nation in which to live.

The inductees serve as role models and must have had a major impact on the City of Scottsdale. The six new History Hall of Fame inductees for 2019 are: Ken Harder, who has served on Scottsdale city boards and commissions for more than 25 years; Jeff Meyer, president of the Cactus League; Bob and Renee Parsons, Scottsdale-based philanthropists and internationally renowned entrepreneurs in high-tech, retail and media; the late Jim Wellington, a career Arizona utility executive and former Scottsdale Unified School District board member; the Salt Riv-

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Deputy Secretary Eric D. Hargan visited the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community on May 8 and toured health-related facilities.

Hargan met with SRPMIC President Martin Harvier, Vice-President Ricardo Leonard and other Community leaders for a meeting before going on a tour of Social Services, the Family Advocacy Center, Salt River Clinic and the Way of Life Facility.

The deputy secretary spent most of the morning in the Community. Indian Health Service (IHS) Principal Deputy Director Michael D. Weahkee and other IHS officials joined Hargan and his staff for the SRPMIC visit. IHS is an agency within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

The tour was led by Assistant Community Manager Lena Jackson-Eckert and SRPMIC

Community Forum Addresses Salt River High School’s Letter Grade

BY DALTON WALKER
O’odham Action News
dalton.walker@srpmic-nsn.gov

Salt River Schools Superintendent Louis Laffitte’s message on May 14 was straight forward: Salt River High School will remain open for the 2019-20 school year.

That evening, Salt River Schools hosted a Community Forum at the Community Building. The main topic was the “F” letter grade given to Salt River High by the Arizona Department of Education for the 2017-18 school year as a result of the required student AzMERIT testing.

The letter grade only affects Salt River High School and its alternative site, the Accelerated Learning Academy

Salt River Schools Superintendent Louis Laffitte

(ALA). In January, Salt River Schools shared a public statement about the letter grade after an appeal was denied. The high school needs at least a “D” letter grade or better on future testing or it could lose its charter and state funding for school years after 2019-20. Laffitte said the school has received a “D” letter grade for the last eight to nine years.

At the forum, Laffitte quickly quashed the rumor about the high school closing for the coming school year. “It’s business as usual—nothing changes, all programs, all athletic programs,” he said.

About 70 people attended the forum, including Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community President Martin Harvier and Education Board members. It lasted a little more than an hour and used a question-and-answer format. The forum was broadcast live on the school’s Facebook page (if you missed it, the replay is available there).

Salt River Schools is taking steps to improve the high school’s letter grade. At the forum, Laffitte stressed the goals of the Five-Year Strategic Plan. Over the last couple of years, the school has been working on adopting new curricula in math, science and language arts, Laffitte said. They are also looking to implement Native trauma-informed educational tools.

SRHS students took the AzMERIT test again this spring, and the school will learn the results later this year. Typically, school districts don’t learn their letter grade from the spring testing until after the start of the next school year.

Laffitte said SRHS is already looking for alternative funding options, such as the Bureau of Indian Education, in case state funding is lost.

Salt River High School is currently enrolling students for the 2019-2020 school year, which starts on August 5. Laffitte said 220 students attended Salt River High this year, which covers grades 7 to 12. Also enrolling students are the Accelerated Learning Academy, Salt River Elementary School and the Early Childhood Education Center. Enrollment information packets are available on the schools’ website, www.saltriverschools.org. One possible change for the upcoming school year may be the hours of the school day at ECEC, which is related to grant requirements. Any changes will be announced ahead of time.

“The biggest thing is that we are still enrolling, we’re still open, we’re still putting strategies [forward] to help student achievement,” Laffitte said.

Laffitte was asked to continue to hold forums in the future in both Salt River and Lehi. The forum also included information on summer school programs and a free pizza meal.

For more information on the letter grade and to read, download and/or print the 16-page Strategic Plan, visit www.saltriverschools.org. To contact Salt River Schools, call (480) 362-2500.

HHS Director Violet Mitchell-Enos. The tour included a drive by the North-east Ambulatory Care Center site along McDowell Road near Beeline Hwy Pit Stop. In 2018, the Gila River Indian Community opened a similar clinic in south Chandler.

Hargan was in Arizona to preside over HHS Secretary Alex M. Azar’s Secretary Tribal Advisory Committee (STAC) and met with tribal leaders for the two-day event at Talking Stick Resort. Hargan shared remarks at STAC on May 9.

Hargan also visited with Native health officials at offices in Phoenix and toured the Navajo Nation. He shared his experience on his Twitter

“My regular ongoing involvement in tribal issues and budget deliberations have been a highlight of my time so far as deputy secretary,” Hargan said on social media. “Secretary Azar and I remain strong advocates for better health and better services in Indian Country.”

Hargan’s department is the largest federal government department, with an annual budget in excess of $1.3 trillion. HHS has more than 80,000 employees. The deputy secretary is the department’s chief operating officer and is in charge of day-to-day operations. For more information, visit www.hhs.gov.

Avoiding Dehydration as Temperatures Rise

BY TASHA SILVERHORN
O'odham Action News
tasha.silverhorn2@srpmic-nsn.gov

As temperatures start to rise in the Valley of the Sun, it's important to drink enough liquids to keep your body properly hydrated.

According to the Mayo Clinic, there is no particular rule stating how much water a person should drink each day. Drinking eight 8-ounce glasses of water is an average goal and a good place to start, but you may need more or less. It depends on your overall state of health, your activity level and the climate where you live.

However, there is one good way to determine whether or not you are dehydrated: look at the color of your urine. If it is clear, pale yellow or gold, you are probably getting enough fluids. If it's dark yellow to brown, the urine salts are too concentrated and you need to increase your liquid intake.

Signs and symptoms of mild dehydration include dry mouth, headache and lack of energy. More serious dehydration can cause lightheadedness, weakness, muscle cramps, nausea and vomiting, and heart palpitations.

For mild dehydration, take small sips of water, drink carbohydrate/electrolyte-containing drinks (Gatorade, Pedialyte or other sports drinks) or suck on ice chips. But if you or someone around you is experiencing severe dehydration—fast heartbeat and breathing, muscle cramps, low blood pressure, nausea—get medical help as soon as possible.

Most people do fine simply by drinking water whenever they are thirsty. After all, we obtain fluids not only from drinking beverages, but also from eating fruits and vegetables (five to 10 servings a day). But thirst is a sign that your body is already low on fluids, so it's important to drink liquids throughout the day to stay hydrated. If you try to catch up on your water intake at the end of the day and chug a large amount at once, you're just going to urinate it out all at once.

Add Some Flavor to Your Water!

If drinking plain water is not for you, try flavoring your water with fruits, veggies and herbs. Fill a large pitcher with water and add your favorite fruits, herbs or vegetables. Let the flavors infuse overnight in the refrigerator.

Arizona To Create Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women Task Force

Arizona House Bill 2570 is now law.

The bill will establish a task force on the epidemic affecting Indian Country on missing and murdered Indigenous women and girls.

Arizona Gov. Doug Ducey signed the bill on May 14.

The task force is expected to form in July and will conduct a study to gather data that will play a key role in ending violence against Indigenous women and girls in Arizona. The task force will be made up of tribal government members, victim advocates, tribal police, social workers and Indian Health Service officials.

On May 3, the White House issued proclamation for "Missing and Murdered American Indians and Alaska Native Awareness Day."

Navajo Code Talker Walks On

Navajo Code Talker and U.S. Marine Corps veteran Fleming Begay Sr., passed away on May 10 in Chinle, Arizona. He was 97.

Begaye served in the Marine Corps from 1943 to 1945 and fought in the Battle of Tarawa and the Battle of Tinian during World War II.

The Navajo Nation Office of the President and Vice President issued a statement and asked all flags to be flown at half-staff on May 17. Arizona Gov. Doug Ducey also issued a statement, saying Arizona "has lost an American hero."

Only a few Navajo Code Talkers remain alive today.

Native American Connections Receives Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation Grant

Native American Connections, a Phoenix-based nonprofit, was one of nine organizations to be awarded a grant by the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation.

Connections received $100,000 to complete the Saguaro Ki housing project through their HomeBase Youth Services program. The housing project will provide a supportive housing option for homeless young people (18-24 years of age) who are working on a long-term, self-sufficiency plan, according to a Diamondbacks news release.

Grant winners were recognized on May 1 when the D-backs hosted the New York Yankees. In all, $768,000 was given to nonprofit organizations in 2019.

NIKE, National Center and UNITY Partner to Provide Indian Country Employment Resources

In April, the National Center for American Indian Enterprise Development unveiled 2020 Native Edge as part of a joint announcement with Nike's Native American and Friends Network and UNITY.

The announcement was made on April 15 at the Nike Factory Store at Wild Horse Pass.

Native Edge is an online business ecosystem similar to the popular social network LinkedIn, but specifically geared towards Native people and Indian Country. The website is part of the National Center's Native Edge push, which includes training events like June's Native Edge Institute in Maine. For details, visit www.ncaied.org.

Across Arizona and throughout much of the United States, the first full week of May is celebrated as Teacher Appreciation Week. In the beginning of May, Salt River Schools hosted events for instructors to show appreciation for what they do.

At Salt River Schools, students and employees honored all educators: teachers, but also aides, bus drivers, security officers, food services staff, counselors, librarians, higher education advisors, administrators and all 350-plus Salt River Schools staff. The schools are very aware and know they all have a role to play in the academic success and future of the young people in the school system and their families.

This year, staff at all school sites were presented with popcorn and small mason jars filled with treats. Additionally, staff received all kinds of delicious foods and snacks delivered to their sites every day throughout the week. These small gifts were in no way enough to fully appreciate the scope of what the educators do daily throughout the year, but the special week of treats set a positive tone for the final month of the school year and brought smiles to everyone's faces.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LOCK – Keep Kids Out of Hot Cars!

BY KEVIN MAKIL
Salt River Fire Department,
Prevention Division

Kids and hot cars are a deadly combination. In 2017, a total of 42 children in the U.S. died from heatstroke after being left alone in hot cars. These deaths are even more tragic because they could have been prevented.

Make sure it doesn't happen to your child, or a child you're caring for. Never leave a child alone in a car.

There is no safe amount of time or any reason to leave a child in a parked car. A child in a hot car can die from heatstroke in just minutes.

Cars heat up fast and stay hot. Even on a cool or cloudy day, a child is at risk for heatstroke. A car can still reach deadly temperatures inside when it's only in the 60s outside. Rolling down windows or parking in the shade will not safely cool down the car.

Running errands? Take your kids with you. Use a drive-thru so you don't need to leave the car. Pay for gas at the pump.

More than half of kids who died in hot cars were accidentally forgotten by parents and caregivers. Here are some reminders to use when kids are in your car:

- Keep a toy or large stuffed animal in your child's car seat. When you buckle in your child, move the animal/toy to the front seat. It will remind you that the car seat is currently occupied by the child.
- Put your briefcase, cell phone or diaper bag in the backseat so you need to open the back door to get it out. This will also remind you that a child is waiting for you.
- Ask your child care provider to call you if your child doesn't show up as expected, especially if there is a change of routine.
- Set a reminder or alarm on your cell phone to remind you to drop off your child at school, or have a loved one call you to confirm that your child was dropped off or picked up. This is especially important if your routine changes and on days when you are tired or overwhelmed.

- Put a "sticky" note where you will see it while in your car, on your dash or in another spot. It will remind you where your children are and when to pick them up or drop them off.

Look before you lock. Almost a third of kids who died in hot cars entered the car to play and got trapped.

Before you lock your car, always check the backseat and trunk or cargo area.

Keep your keys and remote-access devices out of a child's reach. Don't let kids play with them.

HONORED TO HAVE SERVED AS SALT RIVER PIMA-MARICOPA INDIAN COMMUNITY AMBASSADORS FOR PAST YEAR

Miss Salt River 2018/19 Kaily Toney

Skeg tas! Samai Masama? Good day! How are you?

My name is Kaily LaRue Toney. I am the daughter of Kathy Johnson-Toney and Theodus “Odie” Toney. I am 22 years old and recently graduated with a bachelor’s degree from Grand Canyon University.

I am so honored to have been given the opportunity to be an ambassador for the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community. I choose this word over “royalty” or “title holder” because this opportunity is about being a voice, inspiring and representing the people of our Community, O’odham and Piipaash. It’s much more than our crowns, sashes and traditional wear.

During my year, I wanted to focus on bringing awareness to mental health. I have spent months brainstorming what event could bring our Community together and raise awareness about this cause. L.O.V.E. — Lift Others, Value Existence—is what I decided to call my mental health awareness walk. I hope that May 18, will be a beginning conversation with the Community to encourage our people to look at mental health in a different way. We hope to encourage more support for those experiencing mental illness and for our people to see their worth.

I am humbled when I think about being given this chance to serve the Community. The beginning months of my reign were challenging, but as it comes to the end, I feel amazing about the work and energy I put into every event I attended. I want to acknowledge Veronica Flores, Nalani Lopez and Kennise McGertt for all the work they have contributed to the Community as the 2018-19 Miss/Jr. Miss Salt River court. I love each of these beautiful women so much and wish them nothing but the best.

Thank you so much for all the support I have been given. Please remember you matter, and our Community needs you here. Whether you are a child or elder—or someone in between—it’s important we take care of ourselves mentally in order to make progress in our own lives and in the Community around us.

Sapo

(L-R) Outgoing 2018/19 royalty Jr. Miss Salt River First Attendant Nalani Lopez, former Miss Salt River First Attendant Veronica Flores, Jr. Miss Salt River Kennise McGertt and Miss Salt River Kaily Toney.

Jr. Miss Salt River 2018/19 Kennise McGertt

Ske:g Tas! Good Day! My name is Kennise Aurora Rose McGertt, and I’m your Jr. Miss Salt River 2018-19. I am the proud daughter of Sonya McGertt and Howard Dressler. My maternal grandparents are the late Kenneth McGertt Sr. and the late Delores McGertt. My paternal grandparents are Mazie Dressler and the late John Dressler. I’m the youngest of three children; my older sister is Rebecca Thomas and my older brother is Bryce McGertt.

PLATFORM

This year my platform was “Empowering the Next Generation,” and my focus was on self-worth and self-esteem for teen girls. For my platform event, I visited the teen girls in [SRPMIC] Youth Services, where we decorated T-shirts with positive words that make us feel special. I shared this platform because I wanted to show the young girls that it’s okay to not be 100% all the time, but to always remember that they are beautiful, they are strong, and they are worthy of success. I pray that the young ladies in the Community will always love themselves inside and out, because being a woman is truly a blessing.

FUTURE ENDEAVORS

I’m excited to return to the Mountain View Toros Marching Band as a 2019 Color Guard member and travel to Washington, D.C., for the Memorial Day Parade in 2020. I look forward to trying out for Junior Guard Captain too! As for myself, I hope to return in the next few years to run for Miss Salt River. Until then, I will continue to be active within the Community and will be more involved in the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women movement.

TO THE COMMUNITY

This has been a whirlwind of a year! This year taught me that I’m strong, smart, resilient, beautiful, worthy and that I’m capable of anything as long as I’m doing it with good spirits and good intentions. Thank you for all the support and encouraging words you have shared throughout our reign as the Miss Salt River court. I’m honored to have represented the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community.

Thank you. Sapo.

Diabetes 101: Know Your Medications

BY TASHA SILVERHORN
O'odham Action News
tasha.silverhorn2@srpmic-nsn.gov

The Diabetes Program of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community is presenting Diabetes 101, a series of educational workshops for those living with diabetes to help them take charge of their health. Part 1 was discussed in an article in the April 18 issue of O'odham Action News and reviewed the three types of diabetes: type 1, type 2 and gestational. Part 2, "Finding Good Solutions," appeared in the May 2 issue of the newspaper and focused on understanding and managing blood glucose levels. Part 3, the importance of healthy eating and physical activity in managing diabetes, appeared in the May 16 issue. In this article, Part 4, we discuss the different types of medications that lower blood glucose levels orally or by injection to help manage diabetes.

To get the full benefits of your diabetes medicine to help manage glucose levels, it is important to take them as directed by the healthcare provider. For some this can be a challenge and may take some getting used to, but in the end it benefits your health in managing diabetes.

In Diabetes 101: Know Your Medications, Robert Boyle, pharmacist at the Salt River Clinic, discussed the different types of medications prescribed for managing diabetes.

Oral Medications

The oral medications are taken by mouth to lower blood sugar and include:

Pharmacist Robert Boyle shows the Diabetes 101 class the different devices of insulin and how to administer the medications.

- Sulfonylureas
  - Biguanides (Metformin)
  - Thiazolidinediones (glitazones)
  - Alpha-glucosidase inhibitors
  - Meglitinides
  - Dipeptidyl peptidase-4 inhibitor
  - Sodium-glucose cotransporter-2
- Biguanides (Metformin) is a common medication given to those with diabetes. It keeps the liver from releasing sugar into the blood and reducing insulin resistance by making body cells more sensitive. Sulfonylureas (glipizide, glyburide, glimepiride, chlorpropamide, tolazamide and tolbutamide) help the pancreas make more insulin. Dipeptidyl peptidase-4 inhibitors (saxagliptin, sitagliptin, linagliptin) cause incretin to stay in our body longer. Incretin is a natural hormone that tells your body to release insulin when you eat and sends a signal to your liver to stop glucagon release. Sodium-glucose cotransporter-2 (canagliflozin) helps the kidneys remove sugar from the bloodstream.

Insulin

Not all diabetes patients will require insulin; oral medication may be enough. But for those diabetes patients who need it, insulin is injected to manage blood sugar levels and keep them in the normal range as often as possible. Insulin is a hormone secreted by the pancreas. People with diabetes must take insulin either because their pancreas does not produce enough insulin (type 1 diabetes) or their bodies cannot use insulin efficiently (type 2 diabetes).

According to the American Diabetes Association, there are different types of insulin. Insulin cannot be taken by mouth and is usually given by injection (a shot). Today there are devices such as insulin pens and pumps to help get insulin into the body more efficiently.

Regular insulin (Humulin R, Novo-lin R) is a fast-acting insulin taken 30 minutes before eating a meal. It lowers blood sugar two to four hours after taken and keeps working for six to eight hours.

Mixed insulin may include Novo-lin 70/30 (NPH, Regular), NovoLog 70/30 (aspart protamine, aspart) and HumaLog Mix 50/50 (lispro protamine, lispro). The fast-acting insulin works within 15 to 30 minutes.

Long-acting insulins include Levemir (detemir) and Lantus (glargine). These are used once a day. They begin working four to six hours after injection and keep working for 18 to 24 hours.

Insulin should be injected in areas where there is body fat under the skin, such as the abdomen. Do not inject insulin into body areas where there is not enough fat. Rotate the injection sites each time.

To properly dispose of insulin syringes, place used needles in a thick plastic container with a screw-top cap (such as a plastic laundry detergent container); when the container is three-quarters full, tape the top closed and throw it in the trash.

The Diabetes Program can help you. Sign up for the Diabetes 101 classes or schedule a one-on-one session to learn how to manage your diabetes. For more information, call the Diabetes Program at (480) 362-7469.

On May 9, musicians at Salt River High School gave an end-of-the-year concert to close out the school year. Solo pianists, guitarists, percussionists, and Salt River Junior High and High School band members performed pieces ranging from today's trendy tunes to the legendary Beatles. The crowd rooted on their favorite performers as they played their pieces. Two graduating seniors were awarded plaques on stage to recognize their years as part of the band program. The evening marked the final performance with the Salt River High School Band for Nadine Howard and Gregorio Martinez. —Marissa Johnson, O'odham Action News

SCC Vortex Competition Awards 3 Community Members

BY MARISSA JOHNSON
O'odham Action News
marissa.johnson@srpmic-nsn.gov

Scottsdale Community College held its 20th annual Vortex Awards Reception at the Embassy Suites by Hilton Scottsdale Resort on May 2. Vortex is an art and writing competition in which SCC students submit their work to be judged and possibly published in the annual Vortex book. Students may submit writing in Poetry, Short Story, Creative Non-Fiction (Essay) and One-Act Play/Screenplay categories, as well as all types of art.

Three Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community members received awards for their submissions in the Native Voices and Visions category.

Reyna Solis won an award for Excellence in Writing for her personal narrative about life. "I wanted to write about this because it's something that's affected me and my family for such a long time," Solis said. "I also know it affects a lot of people in the Community, and even though it was difficult to write the things that I did, I knew I had to get it out."

Terisa Ann Leonard won for her poem titled "Unspoken Injustice." Leonard explained why she writes and what inspires her to write:

"I believe everyone has special gifts within themselves to find," Leonard said. "It is a privilege to contribute our experience and feelings of life to others, like when we share our happiness, anger, love, passion and sorrow of losses. No one has not experienced all of these in life. People need to heal, recover and rejoice in triumph. Writing on paper is just one helpful way for us do this, at least it is for me."

Leonard got her inspiration from watching the YouTube video "Indian Boarding School Clip from We Shall Remain." This video helped her shape her poem.

Leonard reflected on why she wrote this poem and what she hopes people will take away from it.

"I hope this will inspire and help our families recognize the traumatic history of our elders and ancestors who went to boarding schools," Leonard said. "The cycles of damage need to be stopped and end, or we will [end] as Indigenous people."

Levi Johnson won for his "Flutedancer" art piece in the Computer Graphics and Digital Photography category. He created a digital art piece that shows the flutedancer with the Man in the Maze and baskets across a desert scene.

"I enjoy being creative," Johnson said. "That is why I am pursuing a graphic design/communication career. I like to help people problem-solve their creative designs, and it pleases me to create something new and organic. I plan to attend the ASU Polytechnic campus for my bachelor of applied science (BAS) degree in graphic communication and return to my Community to incorporate the knowledge of design into our cultural ways."

A light meal was provided before the awards were handed out.

Take the Bite Out of Snake Season

BY TASHA SILVERHORN
O'odham Action News
tasha.silverhorn2@srpmic-nsn.gov

Did you know that Arizona is home to nearly 40 different species of snakes? Seventeen of them are rattlesnakes.

Most snakes pose no threat to people. However, residents can unintentionally come into contact with snakes while hiking, doing yard work or enjoying a day at the river. Watch where you're putting your hands and feet.

The Valley's Seven Venomous Snakes

Keep an eye out for these seven venomous snake species that live in desert areas in and around the Valley of the Sun:

1. The most common venomous snake in Arizona is the western diamondback rattlesnake (Crotalus atrox). Most of the snakebites in Arizona are from this snake, which is found in canyons, hillsides, flat areas and many types of vegetation. Sometimes you can see them basking in the heat on a blacktop road.
2. The tiger rattlesnake (Crotalus tigris) is small, with a tiny head, an oversized rattle and alternating light and darker bands wrapping around its body (how it got the name "tiger" rattlesnake). Its coloring is either blue-gray or orange-brown. It stays close to mountain and foothill regions in the desert, which is a good thing because it is the most dangerous of Arizona's rattlesnake species because its venom is very potent.
3. The black-tailed rattlesnake (Crotalus molossus) is a large rattler found in rocky terrain, usually in the mountains where people hike. Their coloration can range from yellow-green to brown-black. The name comes from their black tail scales.

4. The Mohave rattlesnake (Crotalus scutulatus) is found in flat, sandy areas. It can be brown to green in color and is very similar in appearance to the western diamondback rattler. The type A subspecies of this snake has a neurotoxic venom that makes it among the most harmful of all rattlesnakes.
5. The Sonoran sidewinder (Crotalus cerastes cercobombus) lives in flat, sandy soil in desert scrub areas. The snake moves in a sidewinding motion.
6. The speckled rattlesnake (Crotalus mitchelli) lives in rocky areas, which includes most desert parks and preserves in the Valley, where its camouflage makes it difficult to spot.
7. Finally, while the Sonoran coral snake (Micruroides euryxanthus) has a potent neurotoxic venom, it's not considered dangerous and rarely bites. The coral snake has alternating bands of black, yellow (can look white as well) and red. If a snake's red bands touch the yellow (or whitish) bands, it's the venomous coral snake. If the red bands touch only black bands, it's the nonvenomous kingsnake.

Nonvenomous Snakes in Arizona

Nonvenomous snakes in Arizona include the Arizona milk snake, Arizona mountain kingsnake, Arizona patch-nosed snake, banded leafnose snake, black-necked garter snake, coachwhip snake (red racer), common kingsnake, desert kingsnake, gopher snake, glossy snake, ground snake, rosy boa, saddled leafnose snake, long-nosed snake and western hognose snake.

How to 'Snake-Proof' Your Yard

You can take some steps to prevent snakes from lurking around your home:

- Eliminate tall vegetation. If you have grass, make sure it's cut short.
- Clean out debris where snakes can hide, such as piles of wood, rocks, lumber or other materials.
- Get rid of crickets and grasshoppers; garter snakes are attracted to these insects.
- Patch up cracks and holes caused by rodent burrows, and, if possible, destroy the nests.
- Make "snake repellents" using mothballs (snakes dislike the scent), clove and cinnamon oils (mix these two together and spray around the outside of the house), sulfur powder (sprinkled around the outside of the house), or garlic and onions (the sulfenic acid repels snakes).
- Plant marigolds around your home or in your garden to keep snakes away.
- Hardware stores also sell snake repellent that can be sprinkled or sprayed around your home.

Reptile Removal

If you find any kind of snake that you do not want on your property, you can call the Salt River Fire Department to have the reptile removed. Don't harm the animal; four of Arizona's rattlesnake species are protected and you could receive fines or jail time.

According to Salt River Deputy Fire Chief Kevin Makil, the SRFD can remove any type of snake, big or small.

"If you find one, just give us a call and we'll come out. We can catch it, put it in a pail and release it in the desert."

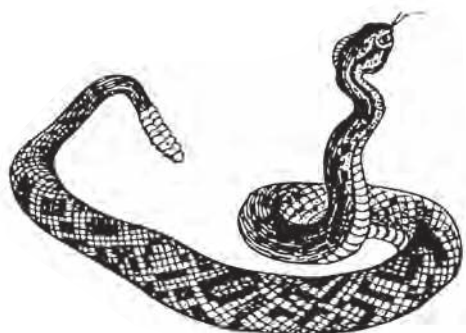

Makil said, "If it's a rattlesnake, you want to stay away from it, but keep an eye on it. Be aware of where it's at and keep the kids and pets away. The rattlesnake can move quite a distance away from where it's lying, so be aware of the distance."

What to Do If You're Bitten

If you should be bitten by a snake, Makil advises that you call 911 immediately, sit down and stay calm until emergency units arrive. Take a photo of the bite site and write down the time. Take a photo of the snake, if possible, but don't move around much or try to hunt it down.

"Don't run around, because when you move around the venom moves through the body faster," said Makil.

The victim should be transported to a medical facility as soon as possible for treatment with antivenom. According to the Arizona Poison and Drug Information Center, of all snakebites that occur each year in Arizona, fewer than 1% are fatal.

The Round House Café hosted its annual Mother's Day Sale on Friday, May 10. This Community-member and SRPMIC-employee arts and crafts event provided a variety of items for those looking to find their mothers the right gift. Vendors sold T-shirts, jewelry, paintings, quilts, traditional clothing, iron artwork and more. The event went from 7 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and the café provided its customers with a traditional menu throughout the day. Tasha Silverhorn, O'odham Action News.

L.O.V.E. Walk Helps Spread Mental Health Awareness

plaining that they are not just statistics, “they are our fathers, mothers, children and grandchildren.” She shared her personal experience of losing her mother to suicide. She suffered her own mental problems but chose not to fall victim to them; she found help through the resources the Community has to offer.

Following Donahue’s talk, Toney talked about her own experience with mental health after she witnessed her older brother’s long road of mental health struggles and how it affected her. “My brother plays the core to today’s event and I cannot thank him enough for continuously supporting me through these years, even as his mind and body are hurting,” said Toney. “I have experienced my own mental health challenges, but it has strengthened me up to this point. My journey has been a ride but I feel strong and beautiful. It is important to me that the people of my Community can feel what I feel this day.”

Toney wanted women to recognize the beauty, worth and power that they hold, knowing that they do not need to be validated by a man or anyone else. She has witnessed young men and women in the Community who are hurting and not understanding who they are, shutting themselves off from the world they should be embracing. She explained that we should all encourage and support the young people. She recognized that we live in a time where it is difficult to balance culture and the modern world. “We need you to support us [young people] as we take on each day and do our best to live,” she explained.

“You cannot heal others until you heal yourself. Please take the time to work on yourself; be selfish when it comes to the health of your mind, body and soul, and do not take it for granted,” said Toney. “Be present in everyday life. Take time away from technology and use it towards things that bring you closer to your friends and family. Please remember that you matter, that you are all strong, and that you all can do anything you can set your mind to.”

Before closing, Toney thanked everyone who came out for the walk. She also thanked Lori Thomas and the Pima Christian Fellowship, Mr. SCC Jorge Gonzalez, the Miss Salt River Pageant Committee, Young River People’s Council, Casino Arizona, On-Auk-Mor and Salt River Materials Group.

SRPMIC Vice-President Ricardo Leonard closed the program with some remarks and a traditional O’odham song.

vocal in the Community and voice my concerns on what needs to done,” Lopez said.

McGertt shared her platform while giving insight on the struggles of being a young woman in today’s society.

“We struggle with body image; we deal with peer pressure and we forget how to love ourselves,” McGertt said. “I want to share this platform because even today, I struggle. I want to show the girls that it’s okay not to be 100% all the time, [and] to remember that they are beautiful, they are strong and they are worthy of success.”

Toney said she discovered how strong she can be by finding ways to balance work.

“It’s a bittersweet moment for me to be here today to share my last presentation to you as Miss Salt River,” Toney said. “The year has been very challenging for me, trying to find the right balance between all of my responsibilities. But overall, I have learned so much about myself and I have begun to find my voice.”

Besides reminding everyone of their upcoming pageants, Toney announced she will be hosting a Mental Health Awareness Walk this month as part of completing her platform as Miss Salt River. Afterward, the girls were given flowers and a small present from Council. Each Council member shared words of encouragement as the young ladies complete their reigns and continue on to wherever their journeys may take them.

SRPMIC Celebrates Law Day

BY RICHIE CORRALES
O'odham Action News
richie.corrales@srpmic-nsn.gov

The Salt River Judicial Center recently held its annual Law Day, which showcases many of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community's justice-related departments and divisions for the public. The event was held on May 1 in the lobby of the Judicial Center. The Office of General Counsel, Department of Corrections, Salt River Police Department, Defense Advocate's Office, Legal Services Office, Prosecutor's Office and Salt River Court all took part in Law Day. Staff took time to hand out promotional items, offer legal-services information and meet with Community members and guests. Everyone was treated to a light dinner and entered into a raffle for a grand prize.

SRPMIC Judicial staff hand out promotional items to families during the Law Day event at the SRPMIC Judicial Center.

Representatives of the Salt River Police Department greet visitors at their table.

Student Athletes Recognized at Sports Banquet

BY RICHIE CORRALES
O'odham Action News
richie.corrales@srpmic-nsn.gov

Salt River Schools student athletes and their families filled the Salt River High School cafeteria for the annual Sports Banquet on May 16.

As families were getting seated, athletes started to serve dinner to each table. Welcoming everyone to the banquet, Athletic Director Brandon Tauscher addressed the student athletes, saying, “This event is all for you. Tonight is a celebration for the outstanding work you did this year.”

The late coach Simon Smith, who passed away earlier in the year, was honored for his coaching work and contributions throughout the years at Salt River High School. In his memory, an award called the Strong Heart Award was presented to the coach of the year.

Smith’s mother, Edith Strong Heart Smith, was also recognized and presented a gift on behalf of Salt River Schools. “Simon’s family is thankful beyond all measure for the great thing that you have done today in his honor,” she said. “Thank you to the students and staff who showed your love and support to our family to honor Simon’s name and all that he believed in. We will

NOTICE OF COUNCIL DELIBERATION
ON REQUEST FOR PERMANENT EXCLUSION OF KAMERON THOMAS CRAWFORD (DOB XX/XX/00).

May 31, 2019

On May 21, 2019, the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community's Exclusion Committee held a hearing to consider whether Mr. Kameron Thomas Crawford, should be permanently excluded from the SRPMIC. After holding the hearing and listening to the evidence and witness, the Exclusion Committee is recommending that the Council exclude Kameron Thomas Crawford from the Community as they determined that he is not a member of the Community and that his presence within the SRPMIC is detrimental to the peace, health and morals of the SRPMIC. This recommendation is based on the repeated calls for service (27 calls of service in 28 months), that Kameron Thomas Crawford caused for the Salt River Police Department and his multiple arrests for dangerous and serious criminal behavior.

On Wednesday, July 10, 2019, the Community Council will determined if they accept the Exclusion Committee's recommendation. The Council meeting will begin at 5:00 pm on Wednesday, July 10, 2019 at the Community's Administrative Complex, Two Waters, Council Chambers (the Administrative Complex is on the corner of Longmore and Osborn Roads) and Scottsdale, Arizona 85256.

Kameron Thomas Crawford has until Monday July 8, 2019 to provide any written material or a written petition supporting or objecting to the Exclusion Committee's recommendation to permanently exclude him from the boundaries of the Community as his presence within the SRPMIC has been determined to be detrimental to the peace, health and morals of the SRPMIC.

If you or your attorney/advocate has any questions about the hearing, please contact Theresa Rosier at the Office of the General Counsel at (480) 362-7444 or theresa.rosier@srpmic-nsn.gov.

NOTICE OF PERMANENT EXCLUSION
JOSE ANTONIO LOPEZ (DOB XX/XX/1951)
*Owner of La Paloma Ice Cream Truck
May 10, 2019

This serves as notice that the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community (“SRPMIC”) Council pursuant to Article VII, §1(g) of the SRPMIC Constitution and Sections 7-72 through 7-75 of the SRPMIC Code of Ordinances decided on May 8, 2019 at a regularly scheduled Council Meeting to permanently exclude Mr. Lopez from the boundaries of the SRPMIC. See SR-3702-2019. On April 2, 2019, the Exclusion Committee held a hearing and determined that Mr. Lopez was a non-member whose presence is detrimental to the peace, health or morals of the SRPMIC due to allegations of serious misconduct involving minors and also having an illegal firearm in his possession while in the Community.

Mr. Lopez’s permanent exclusion was effective immediately. Therefore, he is not allowed to be within the territorial boundaries of the Community, including driving or passing through, visiting others, residing or coming within the Community boundaries at any time for any reason. He is also not allowed to sell ice cream or other items from his La Paloma Ice Cream Truck inside the boundaries of the Community. Any violation of this Exclusion Order will be enforced by the laws of the Community and the SRPD. For more information and a picture of Mr. Lopez, please visit <http://srpmic-nsn.gov/government/exclusion>

Apprenticeship Program

SRMG's ongoing partnership with the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community Apprenticeship Program continues to create opportunities for SRPMIC Community members seeking journeyman certification of their chosen trade by providing on the job training. This training has included learning to operate front end loaders in the Heavy Equipment Apprenticeship to learning many of the software programs needed to provide exceptional service to our internal and external customers through the Computer Apprenticeship.

SRMG is committed to the success of these individuals who strive for excellence and accomplishment; many have joined the SRMG team!

Meet SRMG's current Apprentices, Tamie and Philomen:

Q - You have been with SRMG for 5 months, what have you learned from on the job experience?

A - In the 5 months that I have been here with SRMG as a Scale Operator I have learned about weights and measures and how to ticket trucks. I also learned about the many uses and names of the materials that SRMG makes and sells throughout the area.

Q - What do you like about the work that you do?

A - I like the environment of working with my co-workers, if I have questions or do not understand something, they're always there to help. I also like the customers I have come to know, they are friendly and polite.

Q - What do you look forward to after you complete your program?

A - I look forward to hopefully being hired here at SRMG or finding a job working as a Scale Operator elsewhere.

Tamie, Computer Apprentice, 2018

Q – You have been with SRMG for 5 months, what have you learned from the on the job experience?

A – First off, I would like to thank Community Employment for the opportunity to obtain my on the job training hours with Salt River Materials Group. In the beginning, I did not know much about this industry. With the helpful guidance from employees here at SRMG, I have grown to understand the business. I admire the determination and dedication employees have for the organization. It truly is a great company to be a part of. Everyone here has been supportive which made my transition easier.

Q- What do you like about on the job work that you do?

A – I have learned to use computer programs like Freight Payables to enter received trucking invoices, using the OnBase Unity program to index tickets, retrieve tickets and obtain credits or debits, assist with the trucking report by cross referencing pay rates for each project number in the Command system, assist with preparing the weekly payment batch of received invoices, and efficiently operating the office equipment and directing incoming calls.

Q – What do you look forward to after you complete the program?

A – I enjoy the people I work with and provide support for. I take much pride in providing excellent customer service for the company. Once I complete the program I hope my knowledge of the business will compliment my career as an Administrative Assistant. Obtaining permanent employment within the company would be idea. I look forward to taking on more assignments and continuing my education involving administrative duties.

Philomen, Computer Apprentice, 2018
