Native American youth from the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community, surrounding communities and across Indian Country participated in the 21st annual Arizona Diamondbacks Inter-Tribal Youth Baseball and Softball Tournament from May 29 to June 1. The purpose of the annual tournament is to promote youth baseball and softball.

Like past years, the games were played at multiple locations in the Community, including the small fields at Salt River Fields at Talking Stick, the Way of Life Facility Little League field and the Salt River Recreation ballfields. Softball games were played at Papago Park in western Scottsdale and at Salt River High School.

More than 1,125 athletes from 75 teams representing more than 23 tribes from Arizona, New Mexico, California, Utah and South Dakota participated.

Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community athlete Aaron Makil continues to follow his dream to one day join Major League Baseball (MLB). The 21-year-old recently graduated from Chandler-Gilbert Community College, where he signed to play baseball with the CGCC Coyotes right out of high school in 2016.

In early April, Makil announced that after graduating from CGCC he was signing on to play with the Lobos at the University of New Mexico for the 2020 season.

"It's exciting," said Makil about transferring to a university next year. "I didn't really talk to anyone about going to a university. The Lobos saw me pitch in the fall, and they contacted me expressing their interest and continued to follow up with me. I eventually went up [to Albuquerque] for a visit and I loved it up there."

On May 28, the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community Council hosted a meeting with the City of Tempe Council at Talking Stick Resort. President Martin Harvier provided a brief history of the Community and reviewed the progress of the Community's new economic endeavors. The City of Tempe provided an update on the master plan for the Rio Reimagined project and activity around Tempe Town Lake. In recent news, the City of Tempe announced that it has removed all radio towers on what is now called "A" Mountain. Because of the cultural significance of the mountain to the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community, there has been a long-standing effort to remove the towers. Volkswagen Settlement Helps SRPMIC Get New School Bus

An 84-passenger Blue Bird yellow school bus was purchased in 2018 and SRPMIC recently was reimbursed for the purchase via Volkswagen Diesel Emissions Mitigation Trust.

A 2016 settlement that involved automaker Volkswagen and billions of dollars has a tiny connection to the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community in the form of an 84-passenger school bus.

The German automaker agreed to pay up to $14.73 billion in that settlement regarding allegations that it cheated on vehicle emission tests and deceived customers. More than half of the funding was to compensate consumers under the program, and nearly $5 billion went to mitigate the car pollution and invest in clean vehicle technology.

Of that, $2.7 billion was earmarked for a mitigation trust fund to help compensate for the environmental damage done or potentially done by vehicles sold in the settlement time frame, according to a 2016 Indian Country Today analysis.

About $50 million of the mitigation trust fund was set aside for Indian tribes. This is how the Community got involved. The SRPMIC Community Development Department filed the required paperwork for the first funding cycle (2018-19) and was awarded $192,886, which was used to reimburse the Community for a recent Blue Bird yellow school bus purchase.

In all, 26 tribes across the U.S. were awarded money. Besides SRPMIC, the Gila River Indian Community and White Mountain Apache Tribe were the only other Arizona tribal communities to receive funds.

The awards were based on reservation size and population.

The Community will continue to apply each year in the subsequent funding award cycles.

But his ultimate goal is to be drafted into the MLB.

“Hopefully I get drafted,” said Makil. “I have talked to a couple of scouts here and there, but they want to see what I can do at the next level, which is the university level. Hopefully that will open some eyes and I’ll get drafted. I don’t care which team I go to, I just want to be in the MLB.”

With Makil’s determination, competitiveness and family support there is no doubt he will reach his goal. Makil has been playing baseball since he was 8 years old. He said that he gained his competitiveness from his dad, the late Jason Makil, as he watched him play in baseball leagues in and around the Community. He learned his determination from his mother, Rebecca Makil, who has inspired him to be strong and keep his composure when things get tough.

“It gives me something to look forward to and forces me to be like her and get where I need and want to go, because I know it’s going to be tough these next couple of years trying to make it in the MLB,” he said.

Makil thanks his entire family for being a strong support system to him and his siblings.

SRPD Public Safety Dispatch Supervisor and SRPD Officer Receive Lifesaving Award

BY DETECTIVE JOSEPH OROZCO
Salt River Police Department

On Wednesday evening, May 29, Salt River Police Department (SRPD) Public Safety Dispatch Supervisor Marcy Thomas and SRPD Police Officer Nicholas Daniels received the prestigious Lifesaving Award from SRPD Chief Karl G. Auerbach during the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community Council meeting.

On Monday, May 20, at 6:40 a.m., SRPD police officers were dispatched to Casino Arizona, where a non-Native customer was unresponsive and not breathing due to an overdose.

SRPD Public Safety Shift Supervisor Marcy Thomas took the initial 911 telephone call, obtained details and immediately entered call for service for both Salt River Fire Department EMS and police units. Units were dispatched within 30 seconds to the location.

Thomas remained on the phone with the caller while police and fire units were en route, providing continuous pre-arrival medical instructions, including CPR. SRPD Police Officer Nicholas Daniels arrived on scene within three minutes after being dispatched. He ran to the front entrance of Casino Arizona and found the victim lying on the ground; she was not breathing and had a faint pulse.

Off. Daniels immediately initiated continuous CPR and emergency medical care. Casino Arizona Security assisted with CPR while Officer Daniels administered two applications of Narcan to the victim.

Within two minutes, the victim was revived. Officer Daniels was able to successfully establish a good heart-beat and the victim began to breathe on her own.

Salt River Fire Department professionals arrived on scene about one minute later. They transported the victim to a local hospital, where she made a full recovery.

SRPD Public Safety Shift Supervisor Marcy Thomas used calm, clear, direct verbal communication and provided lifesaving instructions, allowing the caller to render immediate aid and CPR to the victim. When Off. Daniels arrived on scene, he immediately continued the CPR and then deployed Narcan. The teamwork of these two SRPD team members working together saved the life of this adult victim.

After the Lifesaving Award presentation, SRPMIC President Martin Harvier commented very positively upon the actions of the SRPD team members, who were joined at the presentation by SRPD Command staff and family.

Chief Auerbach said, “Our Community and the SRPD are so very fortunate to have such a dedicated and proficient public safety dispatcher supervisor and police officer serving and protecting the Community. We are very proud of Marcy Thomas and Off. Nicholas Daniels and so glad they are on the SRPD Team!”

Senior Steppers Perform at Rattlers Half Time

The Senior Steppers Dance group of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community made a guest appearance at the Arizona Rattlers football game on June 8, performing at halftime in front of close to 14,000 arena football fans.

The popular Steppers group, composed of senior women, has performed at Rattlers games for the last few years.

The steppers started their evening preparing in their suite at the Talking Stick Resort Arena by stretching, rehearsing and getting ready.

The majority of the dancers were returning halftime performers. The ladies performed to Bruno Mars's "Uptown Funk." The Steppers were in sync with each other and with the beat of the song. A few said that even though the song was three minutes, after a while it seemed like it was the longest song! One of the Steppers said she was on point until she looked up at the screen and noticed herself and for a second froze.

"I was doing really good [until I] noticed my face on the big screen; then realized I had stopped dancing," said Roberta Seepie, laughing.

The undefeated Rattlers (13-0) barely kept their streak intact, beating the Tucson Sugar Skulls (6-7) by one point, 50-49. The Rattlers are members of the Indoor Football League.

The Salt River Senior Steppers perform in front of over 13,500 arena football fans during half time of the Arizona Rattlers game held at the Talking Stick Resort Arena.

Diabetes 101: Know Your Numbers

BY TASHA SILVERHORN
O'odham Action News
tasha.silverhorn2@srpmic-nsn.gov

The Diabetes Program of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community is presenting Diabetes 101, a series of educational workshops for those living with diabetes to help them take charge of their health. Part 1 was discussed in an article in the April 18 issue of O'odham Action News and reviewed the three types of diabetes: type 1, type 2 and gestational. Part 2, "Finding Good Solutions," appeared in the May 2 issue of the newspaper and focused on understanding and managing blood glucose levels. Part 3, the importance of healthy eating and physical activity in managing diabetes, appeared in the May 16 issue. Part 4, "Know Your Medications," discussed the different types of medications that lower blood glucose levels orally or by injection to help manage diabetes.

In this article, Part 5, "Know Your Numbers" discusses why it is important to know your blood pressure, glucose levels, A1c and other important numbers when you visit the doctor to stay healthy.

It is important to monitor yourself when you have diabetes to prevent common complications that can arise, such as heart disease, eye problems, neuropathy (nerve damage) and kidney disease.

"We monitor so that we can make lifestyle adjustments that will help us manage our diabetes so we know where we should be," said Clinical Services Manager Marianne Bannett. "If we know where we should be, then we can use the numbers we get to make those adjustments to prevent any damage to our bodies."

Blood Pressure

If you have diabetes, you should track your blood pressure; a person with diabetes should have a blood pressure of 130/90 or better. If high blood pressure is not treated, it can cause damage to blood vessels, leading to cardiovascular disease, vision problems and kidney failure.

Blood Glucose and A1c

The average blood glucose target value for persons without diabetes should be 70 to 100 mg/dL before meals and less than 140 mg/dL after meals (within 40 minutes). People with diabetes should try to keep their blood glucose at 80 to 130 mg/dL before meals and less than 180 mg/dL one to two hours after meals, with an A1c less than 7.0. The A1c is an average measurement of blood glucose over three months.

"A lot of people think just because their A1c is at 7 they are okay, but actually it should be less than 7," said Bannett.

One of the things you will need to do is to take your blood sugar several times daily; that will give you information that you can use, explained Bannett. For example, if you test your glucose after breakfast or any meal three days in a row, it can indicate what foods increase your glucose levels more than others.

Glomerular Filtration Rate (Kidney Function)

Bannett also stressed the importance of requesting a printed copy of your lab results from your doctor. This way you can track your glomerular filtration rate (GFR). The GFR shows how well your kidneys are functioning. The lower the result, the lower your kidney function. As your kidneys lose function over time, you will start progressing through the five stages of chronic kidney disease.

"When your GFR drops to about 45 or so, your doctor may mention it," said Bannett. "It is important to request your labs and check for yourself, to review the results of the GFR. If it is at 60 or lower, start asking your doctor questions about how you should change your diet to prevent yourself from going lower." Certain medications also may help preserve your kidney function for longer.

The lowest stage of chronic kidney disease is stage 5, which is complete kidney failure. In this stage the GFR is 15 or lower, and patients must start dialysis. Dialysis is a process that cleans the blood of waste products because the kidneys can no longer do the job.

People in the early stages of kidney disease often have no symptoms. If you're not managing your diabetes properly, going from 60 percent kidney function down to 15 percent can happen quickly, so it's important to manage your glucose and blood pressure. It is also important to keep on top of your regular doctor visits and ask questions.

"We want patients to be aware," said Bannett. "The most important person on your medical care team is you."

Know Your Diabetes Numbers

Blood Pressure: 130/90 or lower
Blood Glucose: 80-130 before meals; less than 180 after meals

SRDOC Celebrates Higher Education Graduate

O'odham Action News

The education program at the Salt River Department of Corrections has celebrated another first.

Sarabeth Kaye is the first student from Corrections to obtain a certificate in Addictions and Substance Use Disorders Level I from the Rio Salado Community College Reentry Program.

On June 6, SRDOC hosted a celebration to honor Kaye. Salt River Schools Higher Education and SRDOC staff praised her academic achievement. Kaye's certificate was placed in a glass case and presented to her in front of her fellow classmates.

"To me, it's a big accomplishment," Kaye said. "I never thought I would go this far with it. I would encourage everybody to continue [pursuing their education]. I'm hoping to make a big change within the Community because I know how it is to be addicted, using alcohol."

Kaye isn't done with her education. She's studying for her next certificate, in Addictions and Substance Use Disorders Level II, and after that she will work on earning an associate degree.

She's one of more than a dozen SRDOC inmates enrolled in college courses.

Denelle Prieto, Higher Education Program advisor, encouraged Kaye to continue her education journey because it will benefit her and many others. "You're going to help our Community," Prieto said to Kaye.

SRDOC officer Danny Brown, program coordinator, works closely with the students. He said he was proud of all the students, adding that he was "really proud of Sarabeth—what an achievement."

For more information on the reentry program, call the Higher Education Program at (480) 362-2547.

Community Student Graduates From Hoop of Learning Program

Through the Maricopa Community Colleges, a program called the Hoop of Learning allows Native American students in high school to attend school-to-college bridge opportunities at 10 community colleges. The program helps the high school students make the transition to college.

Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community member and Salt River High School senior Jonathan Perez graduated from the Hoop of Learning program this year. The ninth annual senior recognition ceremony took place on April 18 at Phoenix College.

Throughout high school, Perez would spend some of his class time at Scottsdale Community College, traveling back to Salt River High School for the remainder of the day.

"I liked the program. It helped me get ready for college and it gave me some life skills that will help me in the future, such as public speaking," said Perez. "I was a very shy student, and now I feel I'm more of a social butterfly, especially around people I don't know."

Perez joined the program, which he heard about through his school counselor, in his freshman year. He and a few other students traveled to Scottsdale Community College for the program. As the only senior this year, he graduated from the program.

"I think students should participate in the Hoop of Learning Program. It gives you the college experience, [and you can] get college credits before you are a full-time college student," said Perez. "It will definitely benefit you. I am going to attend Scottsdale Community College and then transfer to a university, and this really prepared me."

SRPMIC Public Works Department Celebrates National Public Works Week

BY TASHA SILVERHORN
O'odham Action News
tasha.silverhorn2@srpmic-nsn.gov

National Public Works Week was May 19-25, and the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community Public Works Department celebrated along with all the other public works departments across the United States. The American Public Works Association (APWA) sponsors the weeklong event every year to recognize the many facets of modern civilization that grow out of the efforts put forth by the public works professionals across North America, according to the APWA website.

The theme for 2019 National Public Works Week was "It Starts Here." The week started off with a vendor kickoff event on Monday highlighting the vendors that Public Works uses, the companies that supply everything from cleaning supplies to first-aid kits.

On Tuesday, the department held an Employee Appreciation Lunch, where all divisions of the Public Works Department gathered for a meal and fun activities. Employees competed in a number of skills challenges using the forklift, backhoe and trailer.

On Wednesday, Public Works staffed information tables inside the Round House Café so Community members and other tribal employees could ask questions about services provided by the department. Public Works divisions such as Sanitation, Water, Roads and Facilities handed out printed information to help Community residents with making reservations for the parks or neighborhood centers, trash pick-up information, septic tank maintenance and more. Along with the information, the Facilities division gave tours of the Public Works Central Plant, led by Christopher Jones and William McCain of Central Plant Operations. Those on the tours learned what the Central Plant is and how it works. The Central Plant is the hub for all the cold water that is used to cool the SRPMIC Two Waters Complex, Justice Center, Department of Corrections and Data Center.

Wrapping up Public Works Week was a 2.6-mile walk from the Public Works Administration office to the Salt River Community Building. The walk started off with a welcome by Assistant Public Works Director Dawn Sinoqui, who expressed her appreciation for all the hard work the entire department does for the Community. Following Sinoqui was Council Representative Diane Enos, who gave the opening prayer. Penrose Fulwider led participants in a quick stretching session before taking the 2.6-mile walk down Longmore Road and back to the Public Works Department for snow cones.

Feather Thomas and Philip Iyotte, who work in the Custodial Division, agreed that working for the Public Works Department is great. "We help keep the facilities clean for all the big events, such as the Thanksgiving program, New Year's Eve Carnival and Memorial Day. We also make sure the Community Building, Senior Services Center and the Neighborhood Centers are all clean and ready for use."

The two also expressed appreciation for the opportunities they have to cross-train in the different divisions of the Public Works Department, giving them a chance to grow within the department.

SRPMIC Hosts Annual D-Backs Inter-Tribal Youth Baseball and Softball Tournament

Horned Frogs took first in Triple A boys and the Yaadilah Sports captured first in Triple A girls.

June 1 was Native American Recognition Day at Chase Field, and the first 20,000 fans received a special D-Backs tribal baseball cap. The tournament champions and other top teams in each division received trophies and individual awards, as well as special recognition before the Arizona Diamondbacks and New York Mets game.

In addition to a parade of the tournament players around the baseball diamond, the pregame ceremony included a couple dozen traditional dance performances on the field, some of which featured Community members, and the ceremony recognizing tribal royalty from the many tribal communities and organizations across Arizona. Miss Salt River Kaily Toney, Jr. Miss Salt River Kennise McGertt and Jr. Miss Salt River First Attendant Nalani Lopez participated, and Miss Indian Arizona First Attendant Ki-Ana Reina also took part.

Miss Gila River Tyler Owens threw out the first pitch, and the colors were posted by Haskell Osife-Antone American Legion Post 51.

Award-winning musician Gabriel Ayala (Yaqui) performed "The Star-Spangled Banner" on guitar. Afterward, Ayala raised his guitar's back side to the thousands in attendance. The guitar displayed "No More #MMIW," bringing attention to Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women epidemic.

D-Backs Softball Tournament Action

The girls' softball division for the 21st Annual D-Backs Inter-Tribal Tournament took place at Papago Softball Complex in Phoenix and Salt River High School from May 29 to June 1. In pool play, eight teams played simultaneously on the four fields with families from different tribes cheering on their home team in the crowd. First-round tournament games were played at the high school.

Sydney Terry from Window Rock, Arizona has been playing with her team, Lady Wildcats, in the Inter-Tribal Tournament since she was in eighth grade and is now a freshman in college at NAU.

"Our age group is so diverse," said Terry. "From eighth grade all the way to my age (19).

We feel pretty good, we've been practicing, putting in a lot of hours, waiting to showcase it, we'll do pretty good."

For some families, it is their first time participating this year. Alysa Manson, from Page, Arizona was cheering on her sister. Both sisters grew up playing softball since they were six.

"This is our first year [participating in Inter-Tribal Tournament]. When we would play other teams it would be easy, but this is a whole new field," Manson said.

Gila River Bears defend Single A Title

The Gila River Bears took home the Single A championship for the second year in a row at the Inter-Tribal Youth Tournament on June 1. Two teams with a Gila River Indian Community connection, the Gila River Bears and Casa Grande Pirates, went head to head at Salt River Recreation Ball field. Gila River Governor Stephen Roe Lewis and royalty were in attendance to cheer on the two teams. Bears coach Raule spoke in excitement after the game. "We got great kids and we just keep it up for the community and represent Gila River in a big way," said Raule. "The experience here is always awesome. The championship we got it, and we're hoping to do it again next year." Marissa Johnson, O'odham Action News

Unfortunately, a dramatic finish in the Triple A semifinals that sent the Lehi Raiders to the championship game was erased not long after.

Lehi's Kenyon Antone scored the winning run against the Horned Frogs when he slid into home safe after knocking the ball from the catcher's glove to the ground. But a requested team roster check after the game forced the Raiders to forfeit the win. Lehi coach Dan Smith said a player's name was left off the roster that was turned in at the coaches' team meeting before pool play. The player played the entire tournament, Smith said.

Lehi went on to play in the third-place game and took fourth place. The Horned Frogs won the Triple A championship.

"One of the hardest things for the kids to see during the parade at the D-backs game was for the Horned Frogs to be called champions, knowing that Lehi had beat them fair and square," said Smith.

Smith said he heard other teams were fielding ineligible players, "but that did not cross our mind because we had the mindset that, regardless, if they were going to move on into college playing baseball, then we need to let them see what they will be experiencing.

"The team did awesome and has a lot of heart. Regardless of this situation, taking away our chance for back-to-back championships, I am positive we will be back and in the running for the championship."

In pool play, Lehi beat the Gila River Bears, tied with Santa Fe and beat the Canes to advance to tournament play.

close to qualifying for the Division A tournament. The Rez Hawks, led by coach Eric Schurz, won two games and lost one in pool play. The team carried the SRPMIC flag during the parade of teams at Chase Field.

"We did not make the bracket due the fact we came in second place in our pool, but the kids played tough this year," Schurz said. "We lost to the Gila River Bears. They are a tough team, and they put their best pitcher against us and this is where they got us."

SRFD Conducts Fire Drill at Talking Stick Resort

On May 13, the Salt River Fire Department, along with other fire departments from the Valley, participated in a high-rise drill at Talking Stick Resort on the north side of the tower. Firefighters tested equipment like hoses and the water pressure from the 14th floor of the resort, where they sprayed water from the patio into the nearby pond.

Also present was the staff from the Talking Stick Resort Security Office. Several firefighters from Station 294 located on Talking Stick Way also suited up and walked up the stairs carrying over 100 pounds of gear. Once they reached the 14th floor, they immediately started to connect hoses.

The morning started off with a pre-drill meeting with all departments to discuss what would be taking place. Staff went over safety measures and what each participant in the drill will be expected to do. Participating fire department staff came from the Glendale, Tempe, Mesa, Gilbert and Chandler fire departments. The drill was also a way to showcase the new Fire Operations Division of the department.

The fire drill was an all-day event to practice and learn in case of a high-rise fire in any tall structure around the Community or in the Valley at large.

Phoenix Mercury Players Lead Skills Clinic

BY TASHA SILVERHORN

On May 28, Phoenix Mercury guard Yvonne Turner (No. 6) returned to the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community for another basketball skills clinic at the Way of Life Facility (WOLF). This time around she brought along rookie Arica Carter, who joined the team in May.

The two players, along with Mercury coaching staff and dancers, led youth from the Boys and Girls Club and Community youth in a number of basketball exercises.

The clinic was held to teach children to be physically active and eat healthy. Turner expressed the importance of staying active every day.

“After the regular season of the WNBA ends, I continue to stay active by going overseas to play basketball,” said Turner. “I continue to working out every day and I eat breakfast every morning. Exercise is really important, whether you’re walking, playing games with your friends or taking up a sport. It’s important to be consistent, stay committed to your activities, eat properly and sleep well.”

The youth took turns working with each player, coach and dancer as they rotated through four different skill challenges. Following the training, the youth were greeted by Mercury mascot Scorch and given an autographed photo of the players.

VOAD Training: Electricity Safety

BY RICHIE CORRALES
O'odham Action News
richie.corrales@srpmic-nsn.gov

With monsoon season approaching, we can expect to see or hear about downed power lines in various locations around the Valley. Not only do downed power lines cause power outages, they also are dangerous and may cause injury and even death.

The featured topic at the June 4 Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (VOAD)/Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) training session at the Two Waters Complex was Electrical Safety Awareness. Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community employees and Community members learned safety techniques for dealing with electricity and power lines.

If you should come across a downed power line, always keep a safe distance—10 feet is the recommended minimum safe distance. Why stay away? Because the line could still be energized and could transmit an electric shock to anything around it, including the ground. Call 911 and they will dispatch Arizona Public Service or Salt River Project to safely take care of the situation.

Use caution when working outside in areas with overhead power lines. Accidentally hitting the overhead lines with equipment, ladders and tools can cause severe injury or death. Although power lines appear insulated, they will not protect you from a shock if you come into contact with them.

Remember to stay away from anything touching a power line; it is as dangerous as touching the power line itself.

If your vehicle comes into contact with a downed power line, stay inside the vehicle until help arrives. If you must leave the vehicle due to other hazards, don't touch any metal. Jump out and land with both feet close together, then shuffle as far as you can to get away from the power line. Never walk away normally, because this can cause your legs to be the bridge current from higher to lower voltage, resulting in a

If you see a person come into contact with an energized line, do not attempt to save them, because it can only result in you also becoming a victim. Call 911 and wait for help to arrive.

Electrical Cords and Power Strips

- Are you using an overloaded power strip for appliances or equipment? Be sure to use the appropriate power strip.
- Make sure cords are not cracked or damaged. If you can see exposed wire, then it's time to replace the cord.
- Make sure cords are not wrapped up while being used.
- Never connect two or more power strips together.
- Pay attention to appliances; if they are overheating, it may be time to replace them.
- If you see sparks from any appliance, replace it.
- If your circuit breaker trips when you use an appliance, make sure to install the appropriate size breaker.
- If you notice a recurring tripped circuit breaker or blown fuses, consult an electrician.

Finally, test your smoke detectors every six months and replace batteries when necessary.

Vandals Desecrating Cemeteries at Night, Community Input Sought

SUBMITTED BY DAWN SINOQUI
SRPMIC Public Works Department

The Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community Public Works Department, along with Memorial Services and Cemeteries staff, are seeking input and comments from Community members regarding a proposal to close the Salt River and Lehi cemeteries at night.

Over the past few years, the Salt River Police Department has been receiving an increased number of calls regarding incidents at cemeteries, including abandoned vehicles, tagging, trespassing and desecration of gravesites. Other incidents being reported to the Public Works Department include Community members making recordings and posting photos on social media, trespassers who have fallen asleep in the cemeteries, and individuals who enter the cemeteries late at night to see “ghosts.” Public Works staff also have found increased amounts of drug and alcohol paraphernalia in both cemeteries. These incidents are occurring at all hours, including daytime hours.

These incidents are very disrespectful and have offended and hurt numerous Community members with family members at rest in the cemeteries. It used to be that the Community as a whole knew to be respectful in cemeteries. Community elders say that they were taught not to enter cemeteries at night. It was also mentioned that perhaps due to the recent increase in deaths within our younger generation, younger people are visiting the cemeteries who may not have been taught to show proper respect and behavior.

Currently, the gates at both cemeteries are kept open at all times. While the cemetery staff maintains and monitors the cemeteries during normal business hours, no one is assigned to monitor the cemeteries after the cemetery crew has left for the day. The Salt River Police Department is aware of the problem and is doing its best to monitor the cemeteries.

To reduce the number of calls to the police department during the late-night hours and in turn reduce criminal activity at the cemeteries, there is a proposal to establish cemetery hours of operation and lock the gates from dusk to dawn. Families would feel better knowing the graves of their loved ones are secure.

If you are at one of the cemeteries paying your respects to a friend or loved one and notice anything out of the ordinary or see any suspicious activities, please call 911 or Salt River Police Dispatch at (480) 850-9230 for non-emergencies.

Please contact Memorial Services and Cemeteries at 480-278-7050 to leave your thoughts about closing the cemeteries at night.

NOTICE OF COUNCIL DELIBERATION ON REQUEST FOR PERMANENT EXCLUSION OF KAMERON THOMAS CRAWFORD (DOB XX/XX/00).

May 31, 2019

On May 21, 2019, the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community's Exclusion Committee held a hearing to consider whether Mr. Kameron Thomas Crawford, should be permanently excluded from the SRPMIC. After holding the hearing and listening to the evidence and witness, the Exclusion Committee is recommending that the Council exclude Kameron Thomas Crawford from the Community as they determined that he is not a member of the Community and that his presence within the SRPMIC is detrimental to the peace, health and morals of the SRPMIC. This recommendation is based on the repeated calls for service (27 calls of service in 28 months), that Kameron Thomas Crawford caused for the Salt River Police Department and his multiple arrests for dangerous and serious criminal behavior.

On Wednesday, July 10, 2019, the Community Council will determined if they accept the Exclusion Committee's recommendation. The Council meeting will begin at 5:00 pm on Wednesday, July 10, 2019 at the Community's Administrative Complex, Two Waters, Council Chambers (the Administrative Complex is on the corner of Longmore and Osborn Roads) and Scottsdale, Arizona 85256.

Kameron Thomas Crawford has until Monday July 8, 2019 to provide any written material or a written petition supporting or objecting to the Exclusion Committee's recommendation to permanently exclude him from the boundaries of the Community as his presence within the SRPMIC has been determined to be detrimental to the peace, health and morals of the SRPMIC.

If you or your attorney/advocate has any questions about the hearing, please contact Theresa Rosier at the Office of the General Counsel at (480) 362-7444 or theresa.rosier@srpmic-nsn.gov.

Notice Regarding Amendments to the Illegal Dumping Ordinance

On June 5, 2019, the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community Council approved amendments to several sections of Chapter 13 of the Code of Ordinances. The goal of the amendments is to clarify the civil and criminal penalties for illegal dumping. The fine for criminal illegal dumping will increase from a range of $50 to $500 to a range of $100 to $1,000. The maximum term of incarceration will remain the same, six months. The amendment also clarifies that any fines imposed are in addition to the costs the Community incurs in addressing the illegal dumping. The amendment also decreases from 30 cubic yards to 1 cubic yard the quantity of material that would subject a vehicle and/or trailer used in illegal dumping to forfeiture.

The amendments will be posted to the Community's intranet site. You can also contact the Office of General Counsel and we can provide a copy of the approved amendments.
