

VETERANS DAY 2024

A Veterans Day Message

Ske:g taş. Kamduum?

Our people have a long history of commitment to community, service, and sacrifice. Many fought alongside the U.S. Cavalry before Salt River was federally recognized and served with the National Guard before our people were acknowledged as citizens of Arizona or had the right to vote. Over time, this legacy of service and commitment has continued, with generations stepping up in times of both peace and conflict, to serve our Community, state, and nation.

Veterans Day is a time to honor the courage and dedication of those who have served our great nation in uniform. It is a day to say thank you for stepping up with the willingness to make the ultimate sacrifice to protect the freedoms we enjoy every day. Your service and sacrifice are the foundation of the freedoms we hold dear, and as a Community, we are grateful.

To all veterans, in Salt River and beyond, and to the families who support you, Thank You. You inspire us and remind us of the strength and dedication that binds us together. You are a treasured part of our Community, and we are proud of you and the legacy you have created.

SRPMIC President Martin Harvier

Update on Veterans Office Programs

BY THE STAFF OF THE SRPMC VETERANS OFFICE

We, the staff of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community Veterans Office, are excited to share some of the progress and initiatives we have been working on lately. Our primary focus has been on engaging with the youth in the Community, as they are the future of our traditions and values.

As part of our efforts, we have implemented a two-pronged approach by introducing the Warrior Pups and Young Warriors programs. These initiatives aim to involve young members in our recreational services, while also imparting valuable knowledge about military history and the rich traditions that our Community upholds. With members who have served in various branches of the U.S. military, we are honored to pass on these traditions and cultivate a sense of respect and camaraderie among our youth.

One of the key goals of our youth programs is to instill a sense of culture, tradition, and respect—not only within themselves but also toward others in the Community. By setting positive examples and leading with integrity, we hope to inspire the future generations who will carry on the legacy of service and preserve our cultural heritage.

Speaking about the future, there is always a question about who will step up to serve and uphold these traditions for generations to come. We are proud to inform you that we already have young Community members actively serving in the U.S. Armed Forces, and we call upon your support to encourage and uplift them in their endeavors.

Furthermore, our department is working toward the long-term goal of becoming an accredited Veterans Service Organization (VSO) to better cater to the needs of our Community veterans. To achieve this, we require proper documentation and information, including headstones from family members and relatives. We urge you to continue submitting any requests or relevant documents to our office, and we are here to assist you with the necessary paperwork.

Let us always remember and honor those who have served our country selflessly. They deserve nothing less than our utmost gratitude, support and recognition for the sacrifices they have made. Together, let us ensure that they receive the benefits and acknowledgment they rightfully deserve.

Thank you for your continued support and dedication to our veterans. May God bless the great people of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community.

EARNING HIS SPURS: JACOB CHARLIE TALKS BASIC TRAINING

How was your Army Basic Training, and where did you complete it? I attended OSUT at Ft Moore Georgia for 22 weeks. It was a great experience, tough at times but necessary for transitioning from civilian to soldier.

What has been the most challenging aspect of your Basic Combat Training, and where did you undergo your Advanced Individual Training? The hardest thing about OSUT is the initial transition and letting go of all your simple freedoms but once adapted it becomes normal. Combat MOS's do not move to a new location for AIT.

Where are you currently stationed? Have you made any new acquaintances or connections within your unit? Currently I'm stationed at Ft Bliss in El Paso TX. The guys I work with can be described as my new family rather than acquaintances. We all fight and suffer together.

What unexpected skills have you acquired during your training? Being able to operate under intense stress and little to no sleep.

How are you adapting to the military lifestyle and its routines? I'm adapting well, everything constantly changes as far as daily tasks and trainings, adaptability is key to a good military career.

What are you most excited about regarding your upcoming assignments? In December my brigade will be on a 9 month Rotation to Poland.

How have you been staying connected with family and friends back home? I come home to visit with my family every chance I get and I keep in touch whether it be by phone call or text message.

Have you had any interesting or memorable experiences to share with SRPMC? Other than my training in Georgia, I have been to Fort Irwin California to partake in a Brigade wide combat training that lasted 3 weeks in a field environment, and 2 weeks in services for vehicle maintenance. Out of 45 soldiers in my company, me and buddy were the only two to be chosen to Attempt in a Calvary Spur Ride. The Spur ride lasted 3 days and consisted of over 30 miles of rucking with 50lbs, weapons lanes, land navigation, and maneuvering tactics, all while singing The Fiddlers Green. Me and my buddy were awarded our Calvary Spurs.

Now that you've had some time to reflect, how do you feel about your decision to join the military? Joining when I did was the right decision, being able to develop life and job skills prior to the army has helped me greatly. Being able to serve my country is my greatest achievement thus far in my life and I wouldn't have chose differently.

What are your goals or aspirations within the military? Make my way through the ranks and continue to apply myself to the Army standard.

Finally, what advice can you offer to a community member who is considering joining the military? Join with an open mind, no matter what Job you choose in the army you will be tested physically and mentally, but you will grow and mature and others will notice.

Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community member Jacob Hunter Charlie (middle right), along with friends and family, come together for a photo at the Round House Café, where they had a special meal to celebrate his decision to join the Army.

Upcoming Cemetery and Veteran Memorials for Lehi and Salt River: Honoring Sacrifice and Service

SPECIAL SUBMISSION BY STEVE POKRZYWK

SRPMC Construction Management Division Manager

As Veterans Day approaches, we pause to reflect on the sacrifices and contributions of all service members and their families. We acknowledge that many veterans have dedicated significant time away from their loved ones, and it's important to continue supporting these families. We show appreciation by improving the veterans' areas in our cemeteries to honor their service with meaningful memorials.

The Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community is ready to begin improvements at the Lehi Cemetery and Veterans Memorial, starting with earth-moving equipment on site. This is the first step in expanding the cemetery to better serve our veterans and future generations. Due to the sensitive nature of the land, especially regarding potential discovery of artifacts, an archaeological monitor will be present full-time during the first eight to 10 weeks of earthwork and utility installation. This ensures that any significant findings are handled with care, preserving our history while making necessary improvements.

The utility upgrades will enhance operations at Lehi Cemetery and support the expansion of burial space. These upgrades will include new hose bibs, improved roadways, better drainage and, most importantly, an increase in burial space to serve future needs.

Once earthwork and utilities are completed, construction on the Lehi Veterans Memorial will begin. An engineered foundation will be laid to support structures that will serve as spaces for reflection, remembrance and education. This memorial will offer a dedicated place for Community members and visitors to honor the service and sacrifices of those who served in the military. It's a space that ensures future generations understand the legacy of Community veterans.

Simultaneously, the Salt River Cemetery and Veterans Memorial are in the planning and design stage. This concept has been developed with careful attention to burial space, walking paths, accessible parking, roadways, improved drainage and a designated memorial area for Salt River veterans. However, before final designs can move forward, an Environmental and Archaeological testing plan will be implemented by the SRPMC Environmental Protection and Natural Resources (EPNR) department. Testing is scheduled to begin in early 2025. This phase is critical in preserving the natural and historical integrity of the land before construction begins.

Creating both of these memorials has been a collaborative process involving input from veterans, SRPMC Engineering and Construction Services (ECS), Public Works and Community members. These memorials are more than just structures—they're symbols of honor, celebration and the ongoing support for veterans within the Community. They are reminders of our veterans' resilience, bravery and commitment, as well as the support and resources available through the Veterans Representatives and regular meetings with Community veterans groups.

As we approach Veterans Day, we remember not just our veterans' service but also their families' sacrifices. Let us honor their legacy in November and throughout the year by ensuring they receive the respect and support they deserve. The improvements to the veterans memorials and cemeteries show our appreciation and continue the tradition of honoring those who have served.

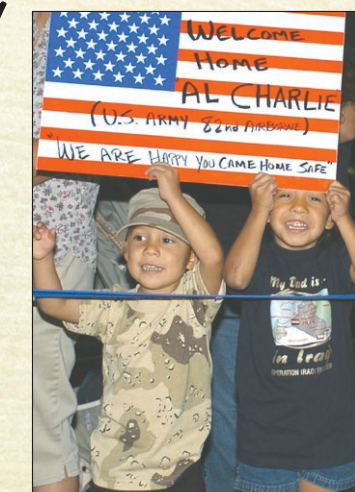

These improvements are critical in providing a respectful and enduring space for reflection, and we are committed to completing them with care, ensuring that our veterans and their families are honored in a meaningful way.

TODAY AND EVERY DAY We Honor You

When United States Marine Corps soldiers Virgil Brown, Kayzhen Enas, Ruben Thomas returned to Salt River in 2003 their families, and Tribal employees welcomed them back with a sense of relief and happiness.

These young ones waited patiently at the gate for their dad to come down the hallway.

U.S. Army Specialist Michael Wagner was welcomed home by the Youth Services Enrichment Program in 2003 after returning home from Afghanistan/Iraq (Operation Enduring Freedom).

Photo was taken at the 2009 Veterans Day Program. While Veterans are not related by blood they are related by camaraderie and the experiences they went through.

The Tahmahkera Family's Legacy of Service in the Military
The Tahmahkera family has a proud tradition of military service. Garrison Tahmahkera was an Air Force member who served in the Korean War. His son, the late Gary Tahmahkera, was a combat medic who rose to the rank of E-6 before becoming an Army Air Defense Artillery Officer. Gary's son, Stephen Tahmahkera, continued the family tradition by joining the Army National Guard, and Monroe Tahmahkera later enlisted in the Air Force. We extend our deepest gratitude to the Tahmahkera Family for their bravery and service to both their country and community.

E. PACER REINA U.S. ARMY (OPERATION DESERT STORM)

In April 1988, Edward "Pacer" Reina, III joined the U.S. Army a month before he graduated from high school. After basic training, Reina went to Airborne School and jumped out of planes dozens of times.

"When that chute opens up and I'm floating down, it's the most peaceful thing in the world. Flight has always fascinated me, and having that ability is like you're walking on clouds," Reina said.

He served with the Charlie Company, Second Battalion, 505th Parachute Infantry Regiment, 3rd Brigade, 82nd Airborne Division. He spent time in Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Iraq.

Reina returned home in 1992 after being honorably discharged.

"Now I think about everything, life in general, I find that there are still peaks and valleys and everyone has their highs and lows. But that mental toughness I developed at Airborne school and later on with the 82nd Airborne Division and going into a combat zone helped me overcome the challenges," he said.

CLARENCE THOMAS U.S. ARMY (PANAMA & HONDURAS)

"We did 30 days at a time in the jungles of Panama. You go into the jungle human and come home inhuman. Being in the jungle for that long changes a person. It took a lot out of me," said Thomas.

For Community veterans who may be living with negative emotions after their time in the military, "Don't give up," said Thomas. "Learn to communicate more. Find people to talk to and connect back with your families. Don't let anger and depression get the best of you. Don't isolate yourself."

DANNY HARVIER U.S.M.C. (KOREA)

"Right after high school (in 1954) I signed up with the Marines, and I was stationed at Camp Pendleton, located in San Diego, California," said Harvier. "I had a lot of fun when I was in boot camp, even though it was very strict and everything. I enjoyed it the most; it taught me a lot."

FILMORE CARLOS U.S. ARMY (KOREA)

Filmore Carlos served with the 82nd Airborne Division. "I was assigned to [the 508th Regiment]. I became a heavy automatic weapons instructor/teacher; I was a cadre. Even though I had limited experience with automatic weapons, I learned the whole mechanical process. I picked it up just like that [snaps his fingers]."

When Carlos' time in the military ended, he did not re-enlist. "I went through my mustering out, because I wanted to get out and go home to Lehi."

GREGORY VINCENT U.S. ARMY (VIETNAM, GULF WAR, GRANADA, AND PANAMA)

As a young boy, Gregory Vincent said he was bound for the military. "Growing up as a kid I was always playing with toy soldiers, model planes and ships, and watched every war movie possible," he said.

He was assigned to the 55th Aviation Company, U.S. 8th Army. This is where Vincent would find his Army career, learning how to repair radios on helicopters and other Army aircraft. He said, "The pilot will have to rely on this instrument. I repaired that radio to be seen by radar, and that was my job." He was assigned to 35/20 avionics, navigation and flight control repairman jobs.

Vincent had been in the aviation club in high school, so it was no surprise to him that he would be working with helicopters. He earned an honorable discharge after serving 20 years in the U.S. Army. After his discharge, he returned to Salt River.

ANTHONY MARTINEZ U.S.M.C./ U.S. ARMY (OPERATION JUST CAUSE - PANAMA)

Anthony Martinez grew up in a military family. He is the son of a veteran, the late Felix Martinez, and the brother of veterans Joe and Jimmy Martinez. Martinez wanted to follow in the footsteps of the men in his family and serve his country.

Martinez was a part of the Third Battalion of the 9th Regiment, which in December 1989 left for Operation Just Cause in Panama. The mission was to enter and clear Panama City of Panamanian Defense Force members and Dignity Battalion members (armed civilians paid by President Manuel Noriega), depose Noriega and secure control of the Panama Canal.

"[When] we got to Panama, we have on full gear, climb into this bus driving through Panama City, and then we start getting sniper fire. We all jump out of the bus, and it was just so frustrating because I had grenades, everyone (in his unit) had them on—just pull that little pin and we could all just go," said Martinez.

ALVIN MILES U.S. ARMY (VIETNAM)

Alvin Miles remembers the day in 1967 when he received a letter stating that he and several other young men were to report to the Induction Center in Phoenix. They had been drafted for the Vietnam War.

Miles reported along with his friends. Fortunately, the friends were able to stick together through basic training, Advanced Infantry training and Jump School at Fort Benning, Georgia.

After that, Miles visited his family for two weeks before shipping out to Vietnam, where he and his friends became known as the "Crazy Bunch."

"We were crazy because [we were] always volunteering to be point men by leading the company to make sure we weren't walking up to the enemy lines, and we would volunteer to bring up the rear and make sure no one was following us," said Miles. "It was very dangerous, because you were the only one back waiting to see if anyone was coming."

MICHAEL WAGNER U.S. ARMY (OPERATION ENDURING FREEDOM)

Michael Wagner had two deployments in the military. "During my first deployment, I felt invincible. Almost like nobody could hurt me. I had that attitude," he said. "But IEDs (improvised explosive devices) were going off, and people were getting shot or hit with RPGs (rocket-propelled grenades). We lost about eight people in my squadron during my first deployment." The next deployment wasn't so bad. "Fortunately, during my second deployment I was only hit with two IEDs. I soon learned that I wasn't invincible and that I was blessed to be alive and returning home."

LAURETTA JOHNSON U.S. ARMY WAC (VIETNAM)

Lauretta Johnson served her country during the controversial Vietnam War. Although she didn't serve any tours, she is still proud of her accomplishments during those five years. She entered the military at 19 years old, right after high school graduation.

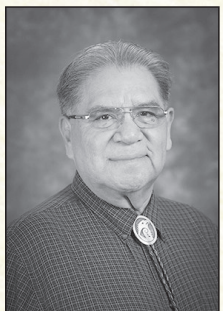

Johnson said she went to basic training more prepared than most girls because she had attended the Stewart Indian School in Nevada. After basic training, Johnson spent one year on active duty and spent another four years in the Army Reserves.

She considered herself lucky because, "wherever I wanted to go, I could go." At the time, females and minorities were needed in almost every area of service. She spent those four years at a post in the Scottsdale area.

The Army asked her, "If you had to go fight for your country, would you go?" She said, "It was difficult to answer, especially when I knew I might be required to kill someone. I didn't want to go to Vietnam, but I would eventually have to. Luckily, a year later the conflict was over." Johnson was not deployed.

DELBERT W. RAY SR. U.S.M.C. (VIETNAM)

Former Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community President Delbert W. Ray Sr. enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps in April 1969, when he was 21.

"I joined the Marine Corps because I wanted to do more with my life," he said.

"[My skill] was in the area of engineering, so I was a heavy equipment mechanic/operator," Ray said. "We did a lot of taking equipment apart and replacing parts. That was my military occupation specialty for three years. This is also what I did when I was stationed in Vietnam."

When his unit arrived in Vietnam, they were vulnerable.

"When you land, you have no weapons and there [were] bombings all on the way, and it finally dawned on me that this stuff is real," Ray said.

Ray's job during the war was putting landing zones together for helicopters. "When we were there, we were out on the field a lot ... so we were out in the bush a lot, which was located in central Vietnam," he said.

Ray noted that he was actually in the war at the same time as his brother, Jonah. "He was in the northern part and I was in the central part," he said.

"I am just thankful I am alive," said Ray. "I think the worst part of the whole Vietnam thing was coming back home, which was around the same time as the [Vietnam War protests] were happening. We were all happy to be home; [but] then [we were] getting off the plane, having people yelling at us, being ungrateful and not knowing what took place. I still have bad feelings about that time...."

Ray finished his tour of duty in April 1972.

MERLIN SCHURZ U.S. NAVY (KOREA)

IT IS A GOOD THING, BUT IT IS HARD ON THE FAMILY

The Korean War was termed "The Forgotten War" because it took place between World War II and the Vietnam War, with little media coverage. The Korean War officially took place from June 1950 to July 1953. There never was a formal declaration of war by Congress, nor was there a treaty or an official end to the war. Because of these facts, the Korean War is referred to as a "police action" or a "conflict."

Merlin Schurz enlisted in the Navy on January 3, 1949.

Schurz recalled, "My time in Korea including [sailing] up and down the east coast of Korea, bombing different places."

He spoke of different experiences with his fellow sailors, many of them funny and joyful, that helped build unity among them. When he reflected on his service time, it includes thoughts about his own family, a wife and two small children at the time, who were foremost on his mind. He said, "It is a good thing, but it is hard on the family. Soldiers leave ... you have to leave your family."

He added, "When I was in the war, I thought about my two boys, how they were going to be without me [if I did not come back]. I thought about this a lot."

Lastly, he offered, "If you go into the military, you are going [in] to protect your Community; you are like a warrior."

EVERETT RHOADES

MEMBER OF THE FAMOUS BUSHMASTERS

Everett Rhoades spent five years in the army, enlisting at 18 and discharged at 23. He served in the National Guard, 158th Infantry, later known as the famed "Bushmasters."

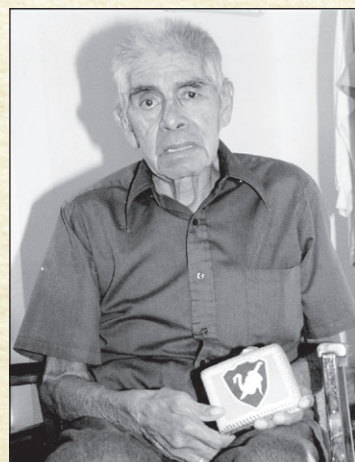

The first leg of his journey began in Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where the 158th Infantry received training. As part of the 45th Division, which was destined for the toughest fighting in the Pacific theater during World War II, the men went through a strenuous training program.

Rhoades' unit moved to Camp Barkley, Texas, for more training. The entire division moved all its troops, with all their equipment, all at one time, from Fort Sill to Barkley.

On December 7, 1941, came the attack on Pearl Harbor. The war was on.

The 158th Infantry was sent to the Panama Canal Zone, a vital and vulnerable part of America's defense system. In Panama they constantly trained for jungle warfare and became acquainted with the deadly Bushmaster snake, which later gave its name to the 158th Regimental Combat Team.

Rhoades said, "We fought all the way from the East Indies to the Philippines."

Everett Rhoades enlisted at the age of 18 and would spend five years of his life serving his country. He is shown here with the Bushmaster patch on his wallet.

Rhoades left for home June 18, 1945, traveling through the Panama Canal to New Port Richey, Florida, followed by a train ride across the U.S. to Fort MacArthur, California, where he was discharged. He then caught a bus from Los Angeles to Phoenix, arriving home August 31, 1945. He said, "After arriving home, there was no Community celebration—nothing."

Rhoades took advantage of the G.I. Bill, training as a truck mechanic.

When asked if he would do it again, without hesitation he replied, "Of course!"

BURLEIGH SAUNDERS U.S. ARMY SF (VIETNAM)

(L) Burleigh Saunders and his comrades.

In the late 1950s, at age 17, Burleigh Saunders made the decision to willingly join the military rather than waiting to be drafted.

"I knew if I were drafted they would put me in a line company, a straight-leg infantry," said Saunders about why he enlisted. "I didn't want that. If I enlisted, I would have my choice of duty station."

Saunders attended Army basic training at Fort Benning, Georgia as well as Jump School and Ranger School. He later moved to Fort Bragg in North Carolina for Special Forces training.

Saunders eventually was sent to Vietnam, assigned to the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG), where he helped the Army of the Republic of Vietnam (ARVN) train in tactics. He did two and a half tours there.

Saunders' specialty was demolitions; he was called on to clear pathways for helicopters to drop off equipment and supplies.

When he was discharged, Saunders ended up at Travis Air Force Base in Solano, California.

"I just thought 'home, home, home, home,'" said Saunders about his long journey back to the United States. When he was in California, Vietnam soldiers were advised not to wear their uniforms outside the gates of the base. Saunders wondered why. They did not realize how strong the anti-Vietnam War protests had become in this country.

"I was proud to wear [my uniform]," he said.

After another long journey, Saunders finally made it back to Phoenix. When he arrived, he cried and hugged his parents and told them he missed them.

"We were only doing what we were supposed to do," said Saunders. "But I was always glad to get home. I don't care where you go, there is no place like home."

GENE O. JUAN

U.S.A.F. (VIETNAM)
AIR FORCE COMMENDATION MEDAL

Master Sergeant Gene O. Juan distinguished himself by meritorious service as Chief, Select Print Unit, Photographic Laboratory Branch, Operations Division, Intelligence Research Center, Deputy Chief of Staff Operations and Intelligence, Headquarters United States Air Forces in Europe, Wiesbaden Air Base, Germany, from 8 July 1977 to 2 August 1980.

HARRISON RHOADES

FOUGHT ALONGSIDE BROTHER EVERETT

"In Panama, there is a [snake called the] bushmaster, similar to the rattlesnake in Arizona except it is a jungle snake," said Rhoades. "That is where we got the name 'Bushmasters' for the 158th Regiment."

After attending the Phoenix Indian School for eight years, in 1937 Harrison Rhoades joined the Army National Guard along with his brother Everett. They were sent to bases in Texas and Oklahoma, and back to Texas for maneuvers.

When Pearl Harbor was attacked by Japanese planes on December 7, 1941, "The Japanese made a sneak attack on American ships; they sunk the USS Arizona, which was the largest ship there," Rhoades said. "During that time I was stationed with the Army's 45th Infantry Division in Louisiana, where we were doing jungle-type training." He would later become part of the 158th Infantry Regiment and be sent along with his brother to protect the Panama Canal.

In 1943, Rhoades was stationed with the 158th in Brisbane, Australia, for six months; they then went to New Guinea and saw combat with the Japanese.

During this time, Rhoades had his brother Everett with him, explained Rhoades' daughter, Pauline Antone. The brothers were together in the same regiment fighting side by side during those five years, and they came back home together.
